One Of Trio Held

District Combed For Two Men In Theft, Kidnaping

Police, sheriff's deputies and Ohio Highway Patrolmen roamed western Columbiana County and Carroll County roads today in an extensive hunt for two armed men who held up a fruit market and kidnapped two police officers at a roadblock Thursday night.

A third member of the holdup trio was being held at the Carroll County jail after his apprehension late last night.

SOUGHT BY police and described as "dangerous" are Charles Howard, 26, and Harold Pitts, 19, both of the Hanoverton area.

They are armed with a police riot gun, a .357 magnum revolver and two .9-millimeter automatic pistols, officers report.

Leslie Pitts, 18, a brother of Harold Pitts, was involved in the market holdup in Carroll County and the kidnaping just south of Minerva, but left the other two and was taken into custody at the home of his mother in Augusta.

Harold Pitts was charged earlier this year with contributing to the delinquency of a minor and was free on bond.

Howard was sentenced in 1961 to 1-15 years in the Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield for breaking and entering. He also served two months in the County Jail for contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

THE TRIO reportedly held up a fruit market at Routes 43 and 184 in Carroll County around 9:45 p.m., obtaining between $150 and $200. The market is located about four miles south of Minerva.

Minerva police, alerted to the robbery, set up a roadblock on Route 183 just south of the village, manned by Patrolman James Nelson of Minerva and Civil Defense police aide Earl Strait of Robertsville.

When the car approached, the two officers noted the guns held by the men, and a struggle apparently took place. One of the men in the car began to run and Strait fired a shot in his direction.

One of the others then warned Strait not to shoot again ". . or you'll be dead."

The two officers were then placed in the cruiser and handcuffed to the back door, while

The only official - elect not attending was Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper. He received the oath privately Thursday afternoon in a ceremony in the judge's chambers.

The new Council, which will meet for the first time Monday night, has a balance of power favoring the Republicans. Four of the voting members are Republicans and three are Democrats. The presidency also crosses party lines for the new biennium, switching from the Democrats to the GOP.

'Test To See If Reds Ready For Settlement'

Viet Nam Peace Offensive Extends To More Capitals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Viet Nam peace offensive extended to new capitals today in what one source called a test to see if North Viet Nam is ready for "a true peace settlement."

Vu Van Thai, South Viet Nam's ambassador to the United States, also said in a Washington interview that the peace effort "is not just an ultimatum for surrender.

"I feel everything has been done to create the conditions to show we are ready in sincerely seeking a settlement."

Meanwhile, presidential envoys W. Averell Harriman and Arthur J. Goldberg were in new European capitals as part of President Johnson's peace campaign to explain the U.S. desire for negotiations to end the Viet Nam war.

Ambassador-at-large Harriman planned to talk to Yugoslavia's President Tito today at the Brdo castle near Ljubljana. Harriman met Thursday with Polish Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki and later with Polish Communist party chief Wladyslaw Gomulka.

Goldberg, the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, was in Paris to confer with French President Charles de Gaulle. Goldberg met with Pope Paul VI and Italian officials in Rome Thursday.

Harriman was expected to return to the United States after his visit with Tito.

Goldberg's plans after the DeGaulle talks weren't known.

De Gaulle has been critical of U.S. policy, and has urged a neutrality plan for the Indochinese peninsula (North and South Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia). He has not said, however, how this neutrality should be enforced, nor has he defined Communist China's role.

In addition to the Harriman and Goldberg forays, President Johnson's campaign also included an Ottawa visit between presidential assistant McGeorge Bundy and Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson. Pearson later talked to Johnson by telephone.

All the visits were veiled in secrecy, and made public only after the Americans had arrived at their destinations.

In Texas, White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said discussions also were going on between U.S. officials and other governments. Moyers, however, declined to discuss them further. Some sources say the United States is seeking peace talks through intermediaries.

Police Check Planned On Drinking Motorists

The police department's manpower will be beefed up tonight in an all-out effort to curb drinking drivers, Chief A. J. Radeschi warned today.

"We will not tolerate drunken drivers," the chief emphasized. "They're a hazard to themselves and everyone else on the streets and highways."

Persons who feel they have imbibed too freely at New Year's celebrations should not attempt to drive home, but turn over the wheel to a non-drinking friend, arrange a ride with someone else who is sober or call a taxi cab, the chief said. Radeschi said extra cabs will be in service tonight because of the anticipated rush of calls.

Five-Day City Project

Christmas Tree Roundup To Be Launched Monday

The street department will begin work Monday morning on the annual citywide collection of discarded Christmas trees, Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said today.

The collection will follow the same routes as incinerator department trash collection trucks, but the schedule will cover in one day the streets serviced in two days by the refuse vehicles. The collection will continue through Friday, Jan. 7.

The tree roundup will begin in East End, with all of the First Ward scheduled to be covered in the first day.

Vodrey and W. M. Laughlin, street superintendent, explained that schedules will be issued daily so that householders will be able to place their trees outside the night before a scheduled collection. The evergreens should be placed at the property line in front of the home or at the rear to help speed the collections, they said.

Laughlin said most of the old trees will be destroyed in controlled fires on city - owned property along the River Rd.

Vodrey pointed out the collection was timed to begin Monday with the thought most East Liverpool families will take down their trees over the long New Year's weekend.

The city has made it a practice for years to collect the trees without charge. When they're hauled away and burned, it forestalls the possibility of discarded evergreens being found on streets, blocking gutters and sewer drops.

Here's the schedule for the first day's collection: Ohio Ave., St. George St., Railroad St., Kent St., State St., Mulberry St., 1st Ave., Virginia Ave., Mapletree St., Elmtree St. Pennsylvania Ave., Boyce St., Monaca St., Harker Ave., Erie St.

Globe St., Etruria St., Cleveland Ave., Palissey St., Wedgewood St., Holliday St., Park Ave., Alpha St., Oakland Ave., Price St., Valley Ave., Elizabeth St., Putnam St., Harvey Ave., Ohio Ave., Michigan Ave. and Little England.

Humphrey, Marcos Confer

Possible Bigger War Role By Philippines Discussed

MANILA (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and President Ferdinand E. Marcos discussed today the possibility of the Philippines moving immediately to give the United States a bigger helping hand in South Viet Nam — such as by sending troops.

But a Philippine government spokesman stressed that his country's Congress would have to approve the use of troops.

The spokesman said Marcos is giving strong consideration to calling a special session of Congress this month, primarily to deal with domestic fiscal problems.

But, said Marcos' press secretary, Jose Aspiras, the president views the Vietnamese war as a problem second only to the country's economic woes.

He noted that Marcos in his inauguration address Thursday expressed belief that "freedom periled anywhere is freedom periled in this country."

But Marcos also stressed that any steps would be weighed with national interests in mind.

A spokesman for Humphrey and Marcos said the two men talked privately in the presidential palace for 45 minutes.

Aspiras said later: "The question of Southeast Asia and the possibility of the Philippines government to immediately associate itself even more closely with the joint efforts in this region were discussed at this meeting."

Did this mean a possibility of sending troops, the spokesman was asked. "Probably," Aspiras replied.

After spending New Year's Eve in Manila, Humphrey jets out early New Year's Day for Taipei, Formosa, for talks with Chinese Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek. He then goes to South Korea.

Although Andrew Johnson was a Democrat, he was nominated as vice president of the U. S. on the Republican ticket along with Abraham Lincoln in 1864.

Help Sought On Locating Car In Crash

An appeal for information about a light-colored compact auto which was involved in a fatal Route 30 mishap near West Point last week was made today by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Officers said they are seeking to identify the driver of the car, which was a fourth vehicle connected with the multiple collision which took the lives of Merle Tice, 25, of Wellsville and his daughter, Julie Ann, 1, and injured several others Dec. 22.

Mrs. Lyda Tice, wife and mother of the victims, remains in "critical" condition today at City Hospital with head injuries.

Officers said the light-colored auto, probably a Ford Mustang, is connected with the collision and asked anyone who may have seen it and could supply further details about the vehicle to notify the patrol post at Lisbon.

For two or three days after the crash patrolmen made checks on vehicles headed east and west at the scene during the corresponding hours of the accident, asking occupants of the cars if they had seen the vehicle on the day of the crash.

They hope to find someone who was driving at the scene at the time of the collision and saw the auto which is being sought.

Irondale Man Hospitalized After Knifing

A 35-year-old Irondale man remained in "serious" condition today at City Hospital with severe cuts and a wound of the abdomen received when knifed by one of two assailants near Hoppels Corner Thursday night.

Paul Carroll suffered severe lacerations of the left upper arm and scalp, a puncture wound of the abdomen and multiple cuts of the back and neck.

He and his brother, Allen, 30, of Carroll Rd. said they were attacked by two men who jumped from a car parked on Carroll Rd. about 9 after the brothers told them to move on.

The two brothers drove into Carroll Rd. from the intersection with the Smiths Ferry-Calcutta Rd. at Hoppels Corners and noticed the car parked along the berm.

The family said parking by non-residents along the road and tossing of trash has been bothersome in recent months.

Allen, driving a truck, pulled in front of the parked auto, and Paul, in a car, stopped beside it, and both got out and walked to the car, thinking there was a youth and girl in it and planning to tell them to move.

When the Carrols warned those inside to drive off, the doors opened and two younger men got out, one with a knife, and there was a struggle. The other two men then got into the car and left.

The family said neither of the brothers was able to offer a detailed description of the assailants or auto.

The Columbiana County Sheriff's Department is investigating.

86 Traffic Accidents Shown For December

With the month and the year waning in their final hours, East Liverpool police had investigated 86 December traffic accidents.

Officers said it was one of the worst months in recent years from the standpoint of the number of collisions, shoved upward sharply by a rash of more than a dozen mishaps over the long Christmas weekend.

But Chief A. J. Radeschi commented that many of the collisions were of the "fender-bender" variety, resulting in only comparatively minor property damage.

Five-Day City Project

Christmas Tree Roundup To Be Launched Monday

The street department will begin work Monday morning on the annual citywide collection of discarded Christmas trees, Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said today.

The collection will follow the same routes as incinerator department trash collection trucks, but the schedule will cover in one day the streets serviced in two days by the refuse vehicles. The collection will continue through Friday, Jan. 7.

The tree roundup will begin in East End, with all of the First Ward scheduled to be covered in the first day.

Vodrey and W. M. Laughlin, street superintendent, explained that schedules will be issued daily so that householders will be able to place their trees outside the night before a scheduled collection. The evergreens should be placed at the property line in front of the home or at the rear to help speed the collections, they said.

Laughlin said most of the old trees will be destroyed in controlled fires on city - owned property along the River Rd.

Vodrey pointed out the collection was timed to begin Monday with the thought most East Liverpool families will take down their trees over the long New Year's weekend.

The city has made it a practice for years to collect the trees without charge. When they're hauled away and burned, it forestalls the possibility of discarded evergreens being found on streets, blocking gutters and sewer drops.

Here's the schedule for the first day's collection: Ohio Ave., St. George St., Railroad St., Kent St., State St., Mulberry St., 1st Ave., Virginia Ave., Mapletree St., Elmtree St. Pennsylvania Ave., Boyce St., Monaca St., Harker Ave., Erie St.

Globe St., Etruria St., Cleveland Ave., Palissey St., Wedgewood St., Holliday St., Park Ave., Alpha St., Oakland Ave., Price St., Valley Ave., Elizabeth St., Putnam St., Harvey Ave., Ohio Ave., Michigan Ave. and Little England.

Humphrey, Marcos Confer

Possible Bigger War Role By Philippines Discussed

MANILA (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and President Ferdinand E. Marcos discussed today the possibility of the Philippines moving immediately to give the United States a bigger helping hand in South Viet Nam — such as by sending troops.

But a Philippine government spokesman stressed that his country's Congress would have to approve the use of troops.

The spokesman said Marcos is giving strong consideration to calling a special session of Congress this month, primarily to deal with domestic fiscal problems.

But, said Marcos' press secretary, Jose Aspiras, the president views the Vietnamese war as a problem second only to the country's economic woes.

He noted that Marcos in his inauguration address Thursday expressed belief that "freedom periled anywhere is freedom periled in this country."

But Marcos also stressed that any steps would be weighed with national interests in mind.

A spokesman for Humphrey and Marcos said the two men talked privately in the presidential palace for 45 minutes.

Aspiras said later: "The question of Southeast Asia and the possibility of the Philippines government to immediately associate itself even more closely with the joint efforts in this region were discussed at this meeting."

Did this mean a possibility of sending troops, the spokesman was asked. "Probably," Aspiras replied.

After spending New Year's Eve in Manila, Humphrey jets out early New Year's Day for Taipei, Formosa, for talks with Chinese Nationalist President Chiang Kai-shek. He then goes to South Korea.

Although Andrew Johnson was a Democrat, he was nominated as vice president of the U. S. on the Republican ticket along with Abraham Lincoln in 1864.

Help Sought On Locating Car In Crash

An appeal for information about a light-colored compact auto which was involved in a fatal Route 30 mishap near West Point last week was made today by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Officers said they are seeking to identify the driver of the car, which was a fourth vehicle connected with the multiple collision which took the lives of Merle Tice, 25, of Wellsville and his daughter, Julie Ann, 1, and injured several others Dec. 22.

Mrs. Lyda Tice, wife and mother of the victims, remains in "critical" condition today at City Hospital with head injuries.

Officers said the light-colored auto, probably a Ford Mustang, is connected with the collision and asked anyone who may have seen it and could supply further details about the vehicle to notify the patrol post at Lisbon.

For two or three days after the crash patrolmen made checks on vehicles headed east and west at the scene during the corresponding hours of the accident, asking occupants of the cars if they had seen the vehicle on the day of the crash.

Balance Listed At $285,603 In Beaver County

BEAVER — Maintaining a pay-as-you-go policy that has allowed it to avoid incurring new bonded indebtedness for five years, the Beaver County government spent $6,505,089 for all purposes in 1965 against receipts of $6,689,692, a favorable balance of $285,603.

Repair Claim Hit In County Action

LISBON — Dismissal of a court action against the Columbiana County commissioners for money claimed due for equipment repairs has been requested by the commissioners.

The move for dismissal, prepared by County Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis, was authorized by the commissioners Thursday.

The suit was filed July 20 by the Cleveland Frog & Crossing Co. of Cleveland which contends the commissioners owe $1,020 for repairs to a loader at the County Highway Garage.

In the move drawn by Bettis, the commissioners deny the payment is owned, and point out the charges for repairs and labor are covered by the original warranty and not valid charges.

Arthur Blake, Martins Ferry Democrat, and Robert Bell of Steubenville, Republican state central committeeman, already have announced for election in the new 30th State Senatorial District, comprised of Carroll, Jefferson and Harrison Counties and eastern Tuscarawas County.

State Sen. Edmund A. Sargus of St. Clairsville, serves now in the district which includes Columbiana County. Known as the 20th-22nd, it went out of existence under the recent legislative realignment. Since he no longer resides in the district, he cannot be a candidate.

Two Women Are Hurt In District Accidents

An East End woman was injured in a collision on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. late Thursday night and a West Virginia woman was hurt in a Route 45 mishap in two of four district accidents reported by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Mrs. Ormae Curtis, 23, of 1628½ St. George St. was treated at City Hospital for chest injuries received in the mishap at Silver Switch about 11:45.

The patrol said she was headed north in a 1959 sedan and was attempting to pass an auto operated by George Crawford, 30, of 541 Mulberry St. when the left front tire apparently blew out.

Her car swerved to the left and struck the cement divider, then veered to the right and hit Crawford's 1957 coach, continuing to the right side of the road and ramming a guard rail. She was taken to the hospital by a passing motorist.

Crawford was charged with driving without a license and improper registration, officers said.

Kay Ellen Burdette, 21, of Elkview, W. Va., was treated at the hospital last night after her 1962 sedan veered off Route 45, south of West Point, and rolled over.

She received a back injury. A passenger, Mike Frank of Cuyahoga Falls, was examined and released. Officers said she was headed north when the car left the road about 8.

Edward Ira Baker, 19, of E. Main St., Salineville, escaped injury when his 1965 coupe overturned along Route 39, about a half - mile west of Wellsville, at 8:30 p.m.

The patrol said he was headed west and rounded a curve left of center, the car veering off the road, hitting an embankment and rolling over, coming to rest on its top.

Neither he nor Robert Morgan, 21, of Hammondsville, was hurt, officers said. Baker was charged with speeding.

Russell Alan Mays, 16, of East Cleveland was unhurt when his 1963 coach veered off Route 45, south of West Point, about 8:30 p.m. The investigation is continuing.

More Intense War In '66 Seen If Conflict Goes On

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — High military and diplomatic officials in Saigon predicted today that if the Viet Nam conflict goes on, military activity will be intensified in 1966.

They expressed this view on the last day of the old year as the continuing U.S. diplomatic peace offensive gave rise to more optimistic outlooks in other parts of the world.

The prediction coincided with an announcement that U.S. military strength in South Viet Nam has reached 181,000. The new year is expected to bring thousands more. There were about 23,000 American troops here last Jan. 1.

The last day of the year also brought a report that 34,585 enemy soldiers were killed in action in 1965. The figures for American dead during the year were put at 1,241 and for Vietnamese government troops at 11,000. Almost 6,000 enemy troops were said to have been captured.

Despite these figures, enemy military strength was said to have grown from about 103,000 to an estimated 230,000 as the year ended.

The figures, released by headquarters of the U.S. Military Assistance Command, Viet Nam (MACV), listed an increase in Vietnamese armed forces during the year of from about 511,000 to 565,000.

With the massive American buildup in 1965, the general military outlook was termed more favorable, but increasing infiltration of regular North Vietnamese troops cast an ominous shadow. One high military source said it now is believed the infiltration rate has reached a predicted 4,500 men a month.

The presence in South Viet Nam of seven North Vietnamese regiments is said to have been confirmed. The presence of one more regiment is termed probable and still another possible.

Despite these moves, U.S. military men say the initiative now is held by the South Vietnamese and U.S. troops and their allies, bolstered by increasing firepower and mobility.

They concede, however, the Viet Cong and their North Vietnamese supporters still can launch quick, often destructive attacks, especially on government outposts and district towns.

Air raids into North Viet Nam, now heading into the eighth day of a Christmas holiday halt, are said to have hampered infiltration and caused extensive damage to communication lines. They also are said to have hindered construction capability and to have had an impact on the economy of the Hanoi regime.

There are, however, no claims that the air attacks in the North have brought about a major change in the war.

The key to victory, in the view of high officials here, still is in the hands of the Vietnamese people who work the rice paddies and who live in the little hamlets and towns of the countryside. One official summed it up this way:

Victory will take place when the people turn against the enemy. A large part of the population has been neutral. It has bent with the wind. Neither side has been able to give the people the security they yearn for. The escalation in 1965 sets a trend of bringing about a moment of decision for the peasant farmers.

These people now were seen as having three alternatives:

Staying on their land, the choice most would prefer; moving to areas of government control; or joining the Viet Cong.

The choice the people make, whether in providing intelligence or other active support or whether in remaining passive or antagonistic to the government, still is believed by many here to be the decisive factor.

"The people," said one high American, "must and will decide."

The Kansas City Athletics will play two exhibition games at night next spring. The games are April 1 and April 5 at Cocoa, Fla., training base of the Houston Astros.

Man Sought After Mishap

A Toronto man was being sought today by Pennsylvania State Police at Carnegie as the hit-run driver who fled the scene of an accident on Route 168 near Laughlins Corners Thursday night.

Pennsylvania State Police said the Ohio Highway Patrol was cooperating in the investigation.

Officers at the Carnegie Barracks said a description of the car and registration tallied with that of the Toronto man. However, they have not been able to contact him.

Walter Flagstaff of Mechanicsburg and the other driver were headed north on Route 168 about a mile south of Laughlins Corners at 8:30 last night. Attempting to pass, the other man's car hit the rear of the Flagstaff car and then continued without stopping, police said.

Beaver Valley Buses To Roll After Accord

Buses of the Beaver Valley Motor Coach lines are scheduled to roll again Monday after drivers and mechanics Thursday night accepted a two-year contract providing for wage increases and fringe benefits, ending a two-week strike.

The firm serves the Beaver Valley and also operates a line between East Liverpool and Pittsburgh.

The 55 mechanics and drivers of Local 1086, Amalgamated Transit Workers, voted to accept the new pact, which is retroactive to Dec. 1. They struck the company on Dec. 16 after negotiations failed on a new agreement to replace the old contract which expired Nov. 30.

Joseph Griffith, vice president of the transit firm, said the final agreement was a little different than the company's offer made Dec. 15, the day prior to the strike.

Employes will get a 5-cent hourly increase this year, with a 3-cent increase at the beginning of the first six months of the second year and another 5-cent boost at the start of the final six months.

For the first time, the contract also provides for a cost-of-living increase. Under the terms of the agreement, one cent will be added to the wage rate for each full point increase in the cost-of-living index.

City And County Sign Water Sale Contract

Following through on authorization voted by Council Tuesday night, officials signed a contract Thursday under which the city will sell water to the county to be distributed by Columbiana County Water & Sewer District No. 2, made up primarily of territory in St. Clair and Liverpool Townships.

The Board of Public Utilities signed on behalf of the city and commissioners approved the document on behalf of the county. The utilities board, comprised of W. O. Schneider, Howard Moore and F. J. Cloran, signed the contract in Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper's office. Commissioners R. Max Gard, Frank Wilson and James Boyd affixed their signatures at the Courthouse.

Council's legislation included the terms of the agreement under which water will be sold to the authority for an initial period of 30 years. The district will construct elevated storage facilities and main water lines.

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Jornal do Brasil reports that American technicians trying to help Brazil improve its tax collection system have set themselves an ambitious goal: to convince the recalcitrant taxpayer that paying taxes is a good thing.

The paper says audit of 40 doctors' returns showed that only four declared taxable income. The others claimed to be penniless.

Coin Flip May Decide Judgeship In Beaver

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The presidential judgeship of Beaver County may be decided by the toss of a coin.

A Supreme Court spokesman Thursday said a petition has been filed by judge-elect John Sawyer of the 36th District asking that this method be used. The spokesman said there probably would be no action on the petition until the high court convenes here next week.

The other judge involved is Ralph Scalera. He and Sawyer are Republicans.

Repair Claim Hit In County Action

LISBON — Dismissal of a court action against the Columbiana County commissioners for money claimed due for equipment repairs has been requested by the commissioners.

The move for dismissal, prepared by County Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis, was authorized by the commissioners Thursday.

The suit was filed July 20 by the Cleveland Frog & Crossing Co. of Cleveland which contends the commissioners owe $1,020 for repairs to a loader at the County Highway Garage.

In the move drawn by Bettis, the commissioners deny the payment is owned, and point out the charges for repairs and labor are covered by the original warranty and not valid charges.

State Sen. Edmund A. Sargus of St. Clairsville, serves now in the district which includes Columbiana County. Known as the 20th-22nd, it went out of existence under the recent legislative realignment. Since he no longer resides in the district, he cannot be a candidate.

Sen. Sargus has announced he will run for probate and juvenile judge in Belmont County.

Two Women Are Hurt In District Accidents

An East End woman was injured in a collision on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd. late Thursday night and a West Virginia woman was hurt in a Route 45 mishap in two of four district accidents reported by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Mrs. Ormae Curtis, 23, of 1628½ St. George St. was treated at City Hospital for chest injuries received in the mishap at Silver Switch about 11:45.

The patrol said she was headed north in a 1959 sedan and was attempting to pass an auto operated by George Crawford, 30, of 541 Mulberry St. when the left front tire apparently blew out.

Her car swerved to the left and struck the cement divider, then veered to the right and hit Crawford's 1957 coach, continuing to the right side of the road and ramming a guard rail. She was taken to the hospital by a passing motorist.

Crawford was charged with driving without a license and improper registration, officers said.

Kay Ellen Burdette, 21, of Elkview, W. Va., was treated at the hospital last night after her 1962 sedan veered off Route 45, south of West Point, and rolled over.

She received a back injury. A passenger, Mike Frank of Cuyahoga Falls, was examined and released. Officers said she was headed north when the car left the road about 8.

Edward Ira Baker, 19, of E. Main St., Salineville, escaped injury when his 1965 coupe overturned along Route 39, about a half - mile west of Wellsville, at 8:30 p.m.

The patrol said he was headed west and rounded a curve left of center, the car veering off the road, hitting an embankment and rolling over, coming to rest on its top.

Neither he nor Robert Morgan, 21, of Hammondsville, was hurt, officers said. Baker was charged with speeding.

Russell Alan Mays, 16, of East Cleveland was unhurt when his 1963 coach veered off Route 45, south of West Point, about 8:30 p.m. The investigation is continuing.

More Intense War In '66 Seen If Conflict Goes On

Who Will Yell 'Uncle'?

It is obvious to everybody in the United States (and pleasing to almost everybody) that the Johnson administration is opening every door to a cease-fire agreement in Viet Nam.

Not so obvious (and pleasing to no one) will be the realization if such an agreement can be reached that the United States is backing away from another Asiatic war it could not hope to win short of setting off a nuclear holocaust.

The only possible net gain in Southeast Asia would be establishment of another U.S. military base there to counterbalance the vast and costly South Korean base which was the net result of the Korean War.

As in Korea, the United States can declare with a good conscience that it seeks no territory and has nothing but peaceful intentions and high hopes of stabilizing political conditions enough to guarantee self-government in South Viet Nam.

As in Korea, too, the United States can claim with good logic that it is standing in the breach against the menace of Communist aggression, especially the Vietnamese and their neighbors, the effect of a cease-fire will be a loss of face for the United States. This could be averted only if the United States were able to dictate terms to its opponents in South Viet Nam — and that is beyond the wildest imaginings of the most optimistic Americans.

The United States, the optimists have been saying, has quit losing the war. But no one has been claiming the United States is winning the war.

As happened in Korea, winning the war would entail a rate of escalation so far in advance of what has been done so far that the United States would have to go on a full wartime footing to support it — and even then might find it had accomplished but the mobilization of Communist China.

This had been President Johnson's reasoning. He wanted to limit the war in Viet Nam. Then, after his election in 1964, he adopted the hard-line proposals of Sen. Goldwater and began to escalate the war, instead.

Theoretically, this was supposed to destroy the opposition's will to fight. Actually, all it did was hamper the enemy's ability to fight, without diminishing his will. The enemy did not yell "Uncle."

The United States does not intend to yell "Uncle" either. But if both sides could yell "Uncle" in unison, so neither would have the onus of giving in, this would be as good a time as any to do it.

If a deal could be worked out in Korea to pin down a couple of U.S. divisions ad infinitum, enabling a large part of the population to live off unearned U.S. military increment, a similar deal should not be impossible in Viet Nam.

Beauty, Brains

Congratulations to Judy Zundel of East Palestine who was crowned Columbiana County "Junior Miss of 1966" here Thursday night as the climax to competition with 16 other girls in a two-day pageant.

Judy now is eligible to compete in the state contest at Xenia in February.

The pageant, sponsored by the Wellsville Jaycees, proved interesting and entertaining and will be something the girls and an appreciative audience long will remember.

East Liverpool was happy to have had a part in the colorful program. It's always a pleasure to find beauty and brains combined. The "Junior Miss" contestants had both.

Sen. Doodle's Amendment

President Johnson, as everybody knows, is struggling to hold the federal budget down to a deficit of about $10 billion. That would be as little as the total appropriations of the federal government in 1937.

What happened in the meantime that caused federal spending to increase by a factor of 10 while the population was increasing by less than one half?

Aside from the radical concept which originated late in the Hoover administration that the federal government should not let its citizens go hungry, be ill-clad, or ill-housed, how was it possible to enter an era of profligacy without public awareness of what was being done?

The answer is simple. Congress had no money responsibility. It knew what it was doing, but it couldn't be held accountable.

It could appropriate money at will, whether or not it had the money in hand or in process of collection.

Legislators could do what no one else could do without running afoul of the law. They could be financially irresponsible.

All it would have taken at any time during the rush into profligacy would have been a constitutional amendment declaring it unconstitutional and contrary to the public interest to appropriate money that was not in fund or process of collection.

If Congress had been forced by law to be financially responsible as well as forced by expediency to be financially generous, the United States today would have no national debt worth worrying about. Its current budget would be balanced and its upcoming budget could not be presented for congressional approval until it had been balanced.

The United States would be forbidden to spend what it did not have. There would be only one exception—a formally declared war. In that event, Congress would be empowered to borrow against anticipated income from the war taxes that would go into effect automatically the instant war was declared.

These suggestions, be it noted, were transcribed from the doodling pad of a U.S. senator. They are presented here without the express approval of the author, who says he would be ridden out of Washington on a rail if word ever got out that he approved of a balanced budget.

Morale-Builder

Reports continue to come in from Columbiana County 4-H Club members about letters of thanks from American servicemen in Viet Nam for the cookies which they received recently.

While the cookies ably represented the material aspects of the endeavor, the program's value as a morale - builder continues to loom as even far more important. Virtually all the letters contained the thought in some form as to the "lift" the GI's experienced from knowing that those at home appreciated their efforts in an unpleasant and unwelcome situation.

"Operation Cookie Jar" has come and gone, but its patriotic after tones linger on.

OK As It Is!

It was Mark Twain who is credited with the widely - quoted "Everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it."

Mark had a good point, but at present residents of East Liverpool and the area don't want to do anything about it. Things are just lovely as they are.

With the temperature in the unseasonable but most welcome 60's at times, what more could one ask on the eve of a New Year!

While other sections have been having their problems weather - wise, we have been blessed with a second "spring."

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: Thank you again and again and again for a most reassuring Christmas. Your aunt and I came back home more certain than ever that our theory about human happiness is correct.

Happiness is a pleasantly remembered passage in time.

No one can be sure what passages will be remembered.

It is impossible to know at any given moment whether happiness is going to be transient or permanent.

Christmas has become a great national festival because millions of us treasure memories of Christmas experiences that were happy at the time and proved to be permanently pleasant as time passed. We want to add to them.

You and your family have given your Aunt Effie and me some of our most pleasantly remembered Christmas passages in time. We like to think we have done this favor to you and your loved ones in return.

To show what is meant by pleasantly remembered passages and how they are different from transient happiness, be aware that we were not happy about sharing your living quarters with that many dogs. We like the idea of dogs. We always have liked actual dogs—but not necessarily in quantities. You do have too many dogs, you know.

I love Christmas wrappings, but I do not love to be wrapped in them. Your aunt loves Christmas bows and ribbon. But she said she felt like a maypole being wrapped by Vassar girls in one of those curious springtime rituals they stage.

We both love to talk. But we are accustomed to being listened to when we talk. At your house on Christmas day, everybody was talking and nobody was listening.

Dominating all the talking, moreover, were records being played on the new thingabob, TV programs, the kids' walkie-talkie, a new transistor radio and the hubbub of those innumerable dogs.

You know what it all adds up to: of course you do. It was one of the most pleasantly remembered passages in time we ever have lived through. Just to think of it makes us purr and wish to be back in the middle of the confusion again—and again—and again.

We have extricated all the half-melted candy canes from our pockets. Our digestion is back in working order. We have caught up on the sleep we missed. Our Christmas presents have been appreciated and put away.

All we have left is the memory of one more Christmas—one more jewel in a necklace locked away where we keep our most precious memories.

That's the way it is wherever people commemorate the modern festival of good will and good feeling. It's why Christmas is the most rapidly expanding institution in human affairs. It even slowed down the killing in Viet Nam, something no other agency in human affairs had been able to do.

Happy New Year!

New Unionists Want More, Faster

By Victor Riesel

Indignation poured out of the telephone. The agitated caller wanted support for an organized move to force a strike of the huge Consolidated Edison electric, gas and steam utility.

Victor Riesel

He was reminded that New York already had had its dose of blackout. He could not care less. He was chided for ignoring the safety of 15 million people.

His reply, better suited to the dirty word movement, added up to "so what?" What were his complaints and those of the big committee he represented? They did not like the pact just negotiated between the leadership of Utility Workers Union, Local 1-2 and the company. Not enough moey, etc., etc.

How old is he? Twenty-eight. How long in the union? Not quite three years.

This was, in fact, the first contract renewal through which some 4,000 new, young employes had gone. They are unhappy. They are of the new make-it-quick generation.

A DETAILED, word-by-word analysis of the contract which made the "instant unionism" crowd so despondent disclosed that it gave some 20,000 "Con Ed" employes a total increase package of more than $25.8 million over a new three-year contract.

Wage increases during its span come to an average of $15 a week for unskilled to about $40 a week for skilled personnel.

Porters will earn about $120 a week. Some 3,000 employes will be promoted. When the fringe benefits are evaluated, this contract — which was actually rejected by the rank and file — is better than any other utility agreement and provides a bigger bundle than the contracts in recent auto, steel, aluminum and other "crises" negotiations.

Quiet, self-effacing Mike Sampson, the union's leader, and his colleagues call it the "best contract we have ever negotiated." He won it without blustering. He and his bargaining committee got it by tough horsetrading — significantly interrupted by the Nov. 9 blackout during a critical session.

MR. SAMPSON could have tumulted. He could have hit the front pages with threats of a strike. He could have given this concentrated commercial, financial and shipping center a second blackout jitters. He could have drawn into turbulent negotiations — with the usual entourages of newsmen, microphones and cameras — the mayor, the governor, the Secretary of Defense, and the President of the U.S.

He lived by his code of responsible unionism. Though the company bargained just as hard as the union committee, its concessions had the largess of an auto makers' foundation.

It agreed to pick up Blue Cross and Blue Shield health payments. It increased sick pay in a formula which, in effect, could give a veteran employe full salary for a full year from the first day of illness.

"There is a powerful hospital and dental section," said one analyst, and medical prescriptions for the sick members. And the company picks up the cost of Blue Cross and Blue Shield and major medical expenses for the family of the employes. There is a life insurance policy arrangement which covers a man for the equivalent of a year and a half salary — thus, if a man makes $10,000 a year, his policy will be for $15,000."

PROMINENT ACTUARIES state that the retirement arrangements were among the best in the land.

Vacation schedules were increased and 11 paid holidays a year guaranteed.

Among those who would benefit from the contract are 1,600 who have some serious ailment or are physically handicapped. Some have heart conditions. Some have injured their limbs. Their dignity and security are preserved.

They have not been laid off. Their jobs are secure. They have been made clerks or put in tool control, etc. Otherwise many of them would not be working anywhere.

The total package increase averages 61.5 cents an hour. Yet the membership voted down the proposed pact by 8,591 to 6,897. Some 4,000 did not even bother to vote. And so another tally was ordered when the company said it had gone far enough.

Con Ed said it had given all it could — especially in view of the damage of the big blackout. The union leaders said they had won their best contract. The strike-happy newcomers to unionism thought it was all just high-button shoe stuff.

They want more and they want it yesterday. It's a sign of the times.

Dates Without Dates

Time was when calendar art meant an idyllic landscape or a pretty girl. No more.

Vine-covered cottages are eternally popular and girls still reign supreme in garages and barber shops. But the trend in free calendars, sent out at year's end by American firms, is toward modern design and fine art.

Housewives and businessmen want calendars that blend with modern decor. One 1966 calendar, for example, consists of a single sheet seven inches wide and 32 inches long with a wooden rod at the bottom. Numerals and advertising are secondary to the stylized design.

Contemporary or traditional, some 400 million calendars will be issued in the United States in 1966.

Banks and other financial institutions, whose taste tends to be conservative, distribute the most calendars.

Calendars began to flourish as an advertising medium late in the 19th century. In 1879, for example, Phylis Phillips of New York issued a calendar announcing his availability as a singer of temperance songs.

The commercial calendar received major impetus from two young men, Edmund D. Osborne and Thomas D. Murphy, who ran a weekly newspaper in Red Oak, Iowa. They wanted to print a woodcut of the new county courthouse, but their limited budget would not allow it. Osborne hit upon the idea of using the picture of the courthouse on a wall calendar, for 1888, and surrounding it with local advertising.

War And Politics

By David Lawrence

Viet Nam Can Affect Voter Stand

Discussion of the possible impact of the Viet Nam War on the 1966 congressional and 1968 presidential elections has lately led many Republicans mistakenly to believe that they will surely benefit by developments.

David Lawrence

Much depends, however, on exactly what the war situation is at the time the voters cast their ballots. It's important to remember that a war can help the party in power to stay in office. The American people took the unprecedented step of electing Franklin D. Roosevelt for a third and even a fourth term while World War II was in progress.

The reasoning applied by the voters in 1940 and 1944 can be repeated politically in 1966 or 1968 if there is a big war going on in Viet Nam. People do not want "to change horses in midstream," as the saying goes in politics.

The deeper the nation is involved in war operations, the more there is an inclination on the part of the voters not to risk changes in the government in Washington.

There is a strong sentiment for keeping an administration in power also when other nations are in the midst of a war and the American people want this country to stay out of the conflict at almost any cost. Back in 1916, President Wilson won a second term on the slogan, "He Kept Us Out of War." When, on the other hand, American ships were torpedoed, less than six months later the people responded to a declaration of war with a dramatic manifestation of bipartisan unity.

THE ONE SITUATION that has been referred to recently as likely to be paralleled in 1966 or 1968 is what happened during the Korean War.

The American people never like any war but, once they get into it, they give it their full support. They went along with President Truman's decision to resist the invasion of South Korea in June 1950 and to join the United Nations in an internationalized operation to repel the aggression.

By November 1952, however, there was disillusionment about the Korean War. The pressure from America's allies in Europe to refrain from bombing the supply bases inside Red China gave the Communists their "privileged sanctuary." This was resented by many people in this country who felt that, once American troops in large numbers were committed to a war, it should be fought with maximum power.

The feeling that swept this country in 1952 was one of dissatisfaction over the way the war was being waged by the Truman administration.

THIS SENTIMENT was augmented by the views of those citizens who believed it was a waste of American manpower to prolong a war that couldn't be won. That's why the Democratic party lost strength at the polls in 1952. History could repeat itself, with the Democratic administration suffering in 1966 or 1968.

There is another possible turn of events. The war may wind up in a stalemate, as did the Korean War. The voters will then heave a sigh of relief, especially as the draft calls are diminished to normal size and the troops in Southeast Asia are brought back home.

So there is much to be gained politically by fighting the war vigorously and shortening it.

If peace negotiations develop into an armistice like that which was signed in Korea, the effect on American politics would tend to be in favor of the administration in power.

It will, on the other hand be recalled that, when the 1952 election was held, there were armistice negotiations going on but no settlement. The people got the impression that, if Dwight Eisenhower were elected, he would bring the war to an early conclusion. In fact, during the campaign he promised to make a special trip to Korea, and this dramatically emphasized his desire to settle the war quickly.

THE VIET NAM WAR is hardly likely to be won before next November but, if it's being fought intensively, the administration would surely benefit. Also, an early ending under honorable circumstances would be a feather in the cap of the Democratic administration.

An unfavorable reaction from the administration's point of view could come only if the Viet Nam War drags on without getting anywhere and without full use being made of all power available — ground, sea and air forces, as well as trade embargoes and blockades of Communist ports.

Who Will Yell 'Uncle'?

It is obvious to everybody in the United States (and pleasing to almost everybody) that the Johnson administration is opening every door to a cease-fire agreement in Viet Nam.

Not so obvious (and pleasing to no one) will be the realization if such an agreement can be reached that the United States is backing away from another Asiatic war it could not hope to win short of setting off a nuclear holocaust.

The only possible net gain in Southeast Asia would be establishment of another U.S. military base there to counterbalance the vast and costly South Korean base which was the net result of the Korean War.

As in Korea, the United States can declare with a good conscience that it seeks no territory and has nothing but peaceful intentions and high hopes of stabilizing political conditions enough to guarantee self-government in South Viet Nam.

As in Korea, too, the United States can claim with good logic that it is standing in the breach against the menace of Communist aggression, especially the Vietnamese and their neighbors, the effect of a cease-fire will be a loss of face for the United States. This could be averted only if the United States were able to dictate terms to its opponents in South Viet Nam — and that is beyond the wildest imaginings of the most optimistic Americans.

The United States, the optimists have been saying, has quit losing the war. But no one has been claiming the United States is winning the war.

As happened in Korea, winning the war would entail a rate of escalation so far in advance of what has been done so far that the United States would have to go on a full wartime footing to support it — and even then might find it had accomplished but the mobilization of Communist China.

This had been President Johnson's reasoning. He wanted to limit the war in Viet Nam. Then, after his election in 1964, he adopted the hard-line proposals of Sen. Goldwater and began to escalate the war, instead.

Theoretically, this was supposed to destroy the opposition's will to fight. Actually, all it did was hamper the enemy's ability to fight, without diminishing his will. The enemy did not yell "Uncle."

The United States does not intend to yell "Uncle" either. But if both sides could yell "Uncle" in unison, so neither would have the onus of giving in, this would be as good a time as any to do it.

If a deal could be worked out in Korea to pin down a couple of U.S. divisions ad infinitum, enabling a large part of the population to live off unearned U.S. military increment, a similar deal should not be impossible in Viet Nam.

Beauty, Brains

Congratulations to Judy Zundel of East Palestine who was crowned Columbiana County "Junior Miss of 1966" here Thursday night as the climax to competition with 16 other girls in a two-day pageant.

Judy now is eligible to compete in the state contest at Xenia in February.

The pageant, sponsored by the Wellsville Jaycees, proved interesting and entertaining and will be something the girls and an appreciative audience long will remember.

East Liverpool was happy to have had a part in the colorful program. It's always a pleasure to find beauty and brains combined. The "Junior Miss" contestants had both.

Sen. Doodle's Amendment

President Johnson, as everybody knows, is struggling to hold the federal budget down to a deficit of about $10 billion. That would be as little as the total appropriations of the federal government in 1937.

What happened in the meantime that caused federal spending to increase by a factor of 10 while the population was increasing by less than one half?

Aside from the radical concept which originated late in the Hoover administration that the federal government should not let its citizens go hungry, be ill-clad, or ill-housed, how was it possible to enter an era of profligacy without public awareness of what was being done?

The answer is simple. Congress had no money responsibility. It knew what it was doing, but it couldn't be held accountable.

It could appropriate money at will, whether or not it had the money in hand or in process of collection.

Legislators could do what no one else could do without running afoul of the law. They could be financially irresponsible.

All it would have taken at any time during the rush into profligacy would have been a constitutional amendment declaring it unconstitutional and contrary to the public interest to appropriate money that was not in fund or process of collection.

If Congress had been forced by law to be financially responsible as well as forced by expediency to be financially generous, the United States today would have no national debt worth worrying about. Its current budget would be balanced and its upcoming budget could not be presented for congressional approval until it had been balanced.

The United States would be forbidden to spend what it did not have. There would be only one exception—a formally declared war. In that event, Congress would be empowered to borrow against anticipated income from the war taxes that would go into effect automatically the instant war was declared.

These suggestions, be it noted, were transcribed from the doodling pad of a U.S. senator. They are presented here without the express approval of the author, who says he would be ridden out of Washington on a rail if word ever got out that he approved of a balanced budget.

Morale-Builder

Reports continue to come in from Columbiana County 4-H Club members about letters of thanks from American servicemen in Viet Nam for the cookies which they received recently.

While the cookies ably represented the material aspects of the endeavor, the program's value as a morale - builder continues to loom as even far more important. Virtually all the letters contained the thought in some form as to the "lift" the GI's experienced from knowing that those at home appreciated their efforts in an unpleasant and unwelcome situation.

"Operation Cookie Jar" has come and gone, but its patriotic after tones linger on.

OK As It Is!

It was Mark Twain who is credited with the widely - quoted "Everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it."

Mark had a good point, but at present residents of East Liverpool and the area don't want to do anything about it. Things are just lovely as they are.

With the temperature in the unseasonable but most welcome 60's at times, what more could one ask on the eve of a New Year!

While other sections have been having their problems weather - wise, we have been blessed with a second "spring."

Dear Nephew: Thank you again and again and again for a most reassuring Christmas. Your aunt and I came back home more certain than ever that our theory about human happiness is correct.

Happiness is a pleasantly remembered passage in time.

No one can be sure what passages will be remembered.

It is impossible to know at any given moment whether happiness is going to be transient or permanent.

Christmas has become a great national festival because millions of us treasure memories of Christmas experiences that were happy at the time and proved to be permanently pleasant as time passed. We want to add to them.

You and your family have given your Aunt Effie and me some of our most pleasantly remembered Christmas passages in time. We like to think we have done this favor to you and your loved ones in return.

To show what is meant by pleasantly remembered passages and how they are different from transient happiness, be aware that we were not happy about sharing your living quarters with that many dogs. We like the idea of dogs. We always have liked actual dogs—but not necessarily in quantities. You do have too many dogs, you know.

You know what it all adds up to; of course you do. It was one of the most pleasantly remembered passages in time we ever have lived through. Just to think of it makes us purr and wish to be back in the middle of the confusion again—and again—and again.

We have extricated all the half-melted candy canes from our pockets. Our digestion is back in working order. We have caught up on the sleep we missed. Our Christmas presents have been appreciated and put away.

All we have left is the memory of one more Christmas—one more jewel in a necklace locked away where we keep our most precious memories.

That's the way it is wherever people commemorate the modern festival of good will and good feeling. It's why Christmas is the most rapidly expanding institution in human affairs. It even slowed down the killing in Viet Nam, something no other agency in human affairs had been able to do.

FBI Breaks Up Theft Ring

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — The FBI reports it has broken what it describes an inside theft ring which hauled away millions of dollars worth of government property from the Charleston Naval Shipyard.

Twenty-six men were indicted by a federal grand jury in Charleston Thursday in connection with the alleged thefts.

Among those indicted is Henry H. Harris, director of the naval supply center's storage division, and three marine engine dealers.

The FBI said that 20 of those indicted worked at the naval shipyard and that Harris "played an important role in the conspiracy by using his authority as director to transfer codefendants to various places and by calling 'safety meetings' of personnel not involved to facilitate the thefts and removal of property."

Car Plunges Into Stream

A 1964 auto driven by James Curtis Oyster, 19, of Chester R.D. 1, drove into the creek adjacent to Middle Run Rd. about 1:20 a.m. today after striking a parked auto owned by Richard Sprout of Chester R.D. 1, Hancock County sheriff's deputies reported.

The impact also pushed the parked vehicle over a 6-foot embankment into the creek, the report said. Combined damages were estimated at $350.

No charges have been filed in connection with the mishap, which remains under investigation. Oyster was uninjured.

In another Hancock accident shortly after 8 p.m. Thursday, a 1963 hardtop driven by Gerald Ray Ogden, 17, of 410-A Jefferson St., Newell, went off the berm and struck an embankment when the motorist swerved to avoid an oncoming car on State Route 66 near the Chester city limits.

Ogden and a passenger, Karen Bragg of 304 Grant St., Newell, were treated at City Hospital following the mishap. Ogden received rib injuries and his passenger contusions of the right cheek and hand.

To Start Projects

Mayor Sees Students Viewpoints Helpful

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — The mayor of Lincoln believes that high school students should be involved in city government.

In a letter sent to the heads of city advisory boards, Mayor Dean Petersen asked that each recommend young persons to serve as full, active members.

"I don't mean that they should dominate these boards," Mayor Petersen said, "but their viewpoints could be very helpful. . ."

Union Observes Its 75th Birthday

Seventy - five years ago today, a small, dedicated group of men was preparing to adjourn a three - day convention in East Liverpool after organizing the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, forerunner of today's IBOP with close to 20,000 members and assets in the millions.

The IBOP called attention to the convention today as it quietly observed its 75th anniversary.

Five local unions were organized at the inception of the union: Local 1 in Toronto, Local 2 in New Cumberland, Local 3 in Kittanning, Local 4 in East Liverpool and Local 5 in Findlay. None of the locals remains today as it was originally constituted. Local 4 remained an integral part of the international until 1960, when it was merged with others to form Local 320.

THE UNION reached 30,000 to 40,000 members at its peak. Gradual cutbacks began as more and more manufacturers closed their doors because of foreign competition and production processes were modernized.

The union adopted its present name in 1951 to take cognizance of its international character resulting from formation of locals in Canada. In 1960, the constitution was rewritten and modernized to bring the organization in compliance with new labor laws.

Looking back before the turn of the century, the IBOP said the union "organization was planned by a small group of employes meeting secretly in their homes, for anyone talking organizing in the shops was fired and blacklisted by the manufacturers of that era."

First talk of forming a separate union for potters began in September 1890, when men in the trade who belonged to the old Knights of Labor attended a convention in Trenton, N. J. The potters decided the Knights of Labor organization was a failure so far as their trade was concerned.

A preliminary meeting was set for Toronto on Nov. 1, 1890. Potters attended from New Cumberland, Wheeling, Kittanning and Toronto. They decided to hold another meeting in East Liverpool on Nov. 15. The second meeting was "very discouraging," the union said, because the Wheeling delegate did not attend and only one East Liverpool potter was present.

THERE WAS an afternoon meeting in which the men decided to withdraw from the Knights of Labor. An evening session then was set and Harry Layden was delegated to invite more East Liverpool potters to attend. Five appeared, and all said they were in favor of a separate potters' union.

Layden and Frank VanFossan were named as a committee on permanent organization, with power to select a third man from East Liverpool. Layden was named chairman and Charles Dargue was chosen secretary of the temporary organization. The first convention was set for East Liverpool on Dec. 29, 1890.

Another preliminary meeting was held Dec. 6, 1890, with representatives from Findlay and the Wheeling kilnhands attending. Various committees were chosen and other preliminary plans were worked out for the convention.

The union said Andrew Brannen selected the name, National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, and Samuel Burford was given the task of designing the organization's charter.

Layden called the first convention to order on Monday, Dec. 29. Committee reports were adopted, a constitution was approved and rules were made to govern the new organization. The rules were copied to a great extent from the American Flint Glass Workers Union, one of the most successful early unions.

The convention lasted three days and night, winding up on Dec. 31, 1890.

COMMENTING on the history, the IBOP said:

"After 75 years, the policy of the Brotherhood has not changed, as it was organized to represent potters at the bargaining table with the manufacturers and, through this representation, wages, working conditions, fringe benefits and pensions for the members have improved steadily. Also the members have given the manufacturers the same high quality of the best pottery manufactured in the world."

The union was formed in the days of the upright kilns, when the industry included many skills that are no longer utilized. A long line of jiggers turned out the ware in the green stage; decorating all was done by hand; the decal girls transferred the patterns to the ware and the dippers worked at their glaze tubs.

Mechanization has seen plants turn to the automatic jigger and decorating and lining machines.

Many trades are gone, including the throwers, the pressers, the jumbo jiggerman and the dishmaker. And one of the mainstays of old - time potteries — the pitcher and wash basin found in every bedroom — has given way to modern plumbing.

But the pride and skill of the IBOP members in their jobs have not vanished," the union commented.

Ohio Civil War Centennial Commission Expires Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's Civil War Centennial Commission expires today, leaving a legacy of 14 booklets, three plaques, a television film and a flag restoration project from its five-year life.

Its action work will linger longest in the program to restore and preserve Civil War battle flags of Ohio units, work that may take two more years to complete.

The booklets and the three-hour film may be the most important accomplishments of the commission, though they represented only a fraction of the $132,638 it spent from the time it was formally organized Nov. 18, 1959, until its formal expiration at midnight tonight.

The historical publications and film "were very good and were lasting," said Daniel Porter, director of the Ohio Historical Society and a member of the commission in its final, inactive, days.

Markers placed to commemorate President Lincoln's visit to Ohio in 1861, he suggested, were "very limited in scope."

Most of the commission's other activities were meetings and events seeking to stir public interest in the centennial of the long war between the states.

"The centennial was essentially a large-scale and long-lasting public relations project," the commission's final report to Gov. James A. Rhodes said.

Speeches by historians, tours by a famous Civil War locomotive and various public ceremonies and meetings represented most of the commission's functions. Its activity largely lapsed during 1964.

Its final spurt of activity was the showing April 9, 1965, of the film, "Ohio Has Saved the Union," prepared by WOSU, the Ohio State University educational television station. The commission contributed $1,100 to this work, and the film is expected to be available for future use in schools.

About $20,500 was spent for publishing historical works of Ohio's relationship to the Civil War, most of them written by professors at Ohio colleges and universities. The most popular work was "Ohio Handbook of the Civil War" by Robert S. Harper of the Ohio Historical Society.

Most of the commission's expenditures, $23,549, went for operating expenses, including about $70,000 for salaries of various employes, most of them hired part-time.

A long line of jiggers turned out the ware in the green stage; decorating all was done by hand; the decal girls transferred the patterns to the ware and the dippers worked at their glaze tubs.

Mechanization has seen plants turn to the automatic jigger and decorating and lining machines.

Many trades are gone, including the throwers, the pressers, the jumbo jiggerman and the dishmaker. And one of the mainstays of old - time potteries — the pitcher and wash basin found in every bedroom — has given way to modern plumbing.

"But the pride and skill of the IBOP members in their jobs have not vanished," the union commented.

Ohio Civil War Centennial Commission Expires Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's Civil War Centennial Commission expires today, leaving a legacy of 14 booklets, three plaques, a television film and a flag restoration project from its five-year life.

Its action work will linger longest in the program to restore and preserve Civil War battle flags of Ohio units, work that may take two more years to complete.

The booklets and the three-hour film may be the most important accomplishments of the commission, though they represented only a fraction of the $132,638 it spent from the time it was formally organized Nov. 18, 1959, until its formal expiration at midnight tonight.

The historical publications and film "were very good and were lasting," said Daniel Porter, director of the Ohio Historical Society and a member of the commission in its final, inactive days.

Markers placed to commemorate President Lincoln's visit to Ohio in 1861, he suggested, were "very limited in scope."

Most of the commission's other activities were meetings and events seeking to stir public interest in the centennial of the long war between the states.

"The centennial was essentially a large-scale and long-lasting public relations project," the commission's final report to Gov. James A. Rhodes said.

Speeches by historians, tours by a famous Civil War locomotive and various public ceremonies and meetings represented most of the commission's functions. Its activity largely lapsed during 1964.

Its final spurt of activity was the showing April 9, 1965, of the film, "Ohio Has Saved the Union," prepared by WOSU, the Ohio State University educational television station. The commission contributed $1,100 to this work, and the film is expected to be available for future use in schools.

About $20,500 was spent for publishing historical works of Ohio's relationship to the Civil War, most of them written by professors at Ohio colleges and universities. The most popular work was "Ohio Handbook of the Civil War," by Robert S. Harper, of the Ohio Historical Society.

Most of the commission's expenditures, $93,549, went for operating expenses, including about $70,000 for salaries of various employes, most of them hired part-time.

How Can I?

ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—What is a quick and easy way of mixing leftover paint?

A.—One idea is to drop a couple of marbles or ball bearings into the can before sealing it. They eventually become embedded in the thickening paint in the bottom of the can. Then when the sealed can is shaken vigorously, the marbles or bearings will not rattle until the thickened paint has begun to mix with the oil. As soon as the objects rattle freely, you'll know your paint is well mixed.

Q.—How can I preserve valuable documents before storing them?

A.—By rubbing all over them with a gutta-percha solution, obtainable at the drugstore.

Q.—How can I remove scratches from my silverware?

A.—By applying with a soft cloth a paste made of putty powder and olive oil. Rinse, and polish.

Q.—What can Ido about mildew that has accumulated on some bamboo shades?

A.—Rub the bamboo shade with a coarse cloth, such as canvas or burlap, which has been moistened with pure gum-distilled turpentine. When the shades have dried thoroughly, coat them with a good spar varnish. If necessary, you can rub the bamboo lightly with dry steel wool prior to varnishing.

Crab Traps Nuisance, Hazard To Navigation

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Nuisances and hazards to navigation are the terms boaters in Jacksonville and Duval County use to describe the white and black jugs bobbings on the surface of inland waters.

The boaters say their boat propellers become entwined in lines that are below the jugs.

These jugs are crab traps belonging to commercial fishermen who empty and rebait them at least once daily to earn their living.

"These traps are private property of crab fishermen," says Robert Davis, local officer of the Florida Board of Conservation. "As long as the fishermen are licensed and their traps are not in a marked channel of navigation they have every right to be there."

TV Dealers Trying De-Repairing Process

LONDON (AP) — Television dealers here — so far, very few — are experimenting with a process called de-repairing.

When they submit an estimate for fixing a television set they explain that the work, in fact, has already been done. They say the work had to be done so they could find out what the cost would be for doing it.

Should the customer refuse to pay the estimate, the dealers would instruct their repairmen to de-repair the set and restore it to its original unsatisfactory state.

With the de - repair goes an "estimate charge" of 25 shillings ($3.50) to cover the cost of the exercise.

Wisdom Of Judge's Father Recognized

Goodwin chuckled, bowed, and replied:

"I recognize the wisdom of your father."

Bethlehem Announces $5-A-Ton Price Hike

NEW YORK (AP) — Bethlehem Steel Co., the nation's second largest producer, announced a $5-a-ton price increase today in structural steel shapes and piling.

E. B. Bickford, vice president, said the increase, effective with shipments Saturday, was made because of growing industry acceptance for lightweight, higher-strength steel.

The company also announced a "revision" it said was generally downward in prices of certain other structural sections.

Bethlehem said it will broaden its line of lightweight steel sections, which it said are designed to reduce construction costs. The lightweight sections will be available immediately.

How Can I?

ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—What is a quick and easy way of mixing leftover paint?

A.—One idea is to drop a couple of marbles or ball bearings into the can before sealing it. They eventually become embedded in the thickening paint in the bottom of the can. Then when the sealed can is shaken vigorously, the marbles or bearings will not rattle until the thickened paint has begun to mix with the oil. As soon as the objects rattle freely, you'll know your paint is well mixed.

Q.—How can I preserve valuable documents before storing them?

A.—By rubbing all over them with a gutta-percha solution, obtainable at the drugstore.

Q.—How can I remove scratches from my silverware?

A.—By applying with a soft cloth a paste made of putty powder and olive oil. Rinse, and polish.

Q.—What can Ido about mildew that has accumulated on some bamboo shades?

A.—Rub the bamboo shade with a coarse cloth, such as canvas or burlap, which has been moistened with pure gum-distilled turpentine. When the shades have dried thoroughly, coat them with a good spar varnish. If necessary, you can rub the bamboo lightly with dry steel wool prior to varnishing.

Crab Traps Nuisance, Hazard To Navigation

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Nuisances and hazards to navigation are the terms boaters in Jacksonville and Duval County use to describe the white and black jugs bobbings on the surface of inland waters.

The boaters say their boat propellers become entwined in lines that are below the jugs.

These jugs are crab traps belonging to commercial fishermen who empty and rebait them at least once daily to earn their living.

"These traps are private property of crab fishermen," says Robert Davis, local officer of the Florida Board of Conservation. "As long as the fishermen are licensed and their traps are not in a marked channel of navigation, they have every right to be there."

TV Dealers Trying De-Repairing Process

LONDON (AP) — Television dealers here — so far, very few — are experimenting with a process called de-repairing.

When they submit an estimate for fixing a television set they explain that the work, in fact, has already been done. They say the work had to be done so they could find out what the cost would be for doing it.

Should the customer refuse to pay the estimate, the dealers would instruct their repairmen to de-repair the set and restore it to its original unsatisfactory state.

With the de - repair goes an "estimate charge" of 25 shillings ($3.50) to cover the cost of the exercise.

Bethlehem said it will broaden its line of lightweight steel sections, which it said are designed to reduce construction costs. The lightweight sections will be available immediately.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm almost 18 — old enough to know better, but I didn't. Yesterday the doctor confirmed what I have suspected for several weeks. I'm pregnant.

Last night I told my dad and mother and they went to pieces. My dad demands that I name the person who is responsible. I told him that I'm the person who is responsible. The man rejected me for a year but I chased him shamelessly and finally caught him in a weak moment when he had had too much to drink.

The man is my brother-in-law. If my sister knew she surely would divorce him. I don't want to break up their marriage and hurt innocent people. Furthermore, they have small children whom I love dearly.

I plan to go to a home for unwed mothers and put my baby up for adoption. Then I will move to another city and start life over.

My parents are putting such terrific pressure on me to tell them who the man is that I'm a wreck. Please rush your advice, Ann. I need the strength you can give me — DONE ENOUGH ALREADY.

-:-

Dear Done Enough: Your brother-in-law is getting a better break than he deserves. But I completely agree with you. Dragging his name into the mess would accomplish nothing constructive. It would only do tremendous damage.

So keep quiet, my dear. You'll be glad you did.

Golden Years?

Dear Ann: My husband and I celebrated our 50th wedding anniversary recently. I'm not pinning any medals on myself but it hasn't been easy.

Everyone raves about my pies. They always bring the highest prices at the church bazaar. Dutch apple is my specialty.

Last night my sister and her husband were here to play a little cards. When I brought in the coffee and pie, my husband said, "You've never made a decent pie in your whole life — why don't you give up?"

I laughed, thinking it was some sort of joke. And then he said, "I could do better myself and I'll prove it."

Well, Ann, he stomped into the kitchen and started to pull out everything in sight. The guests left and I went to bed. At 3 a.m. he was still banging around the kitchen.

This morning the kitchen looked like a tornado had hit it. There was no pie in sight.

My sister phoned me and said I should never bake another pie for my husband as long as he lives. I'm inclined to forgive and forget. What do you say?—HURT.

-:-

Dear Hurt: I say if you've lived with this nut for 50 years you don't need any advice from your sister — or from me. Just keep on doing what you're doing. Forgive and forget.

Soda On Rocks

Dear Ann: The letter from the woman who gets "mysteriously stoned" on two drinks sounds like me.

Finally I went to a doctor and discovered that my system cannot handle stimulants (and some medicines) at a normal level.

If I can politely refuse a drink, I do so. If I can't, then I take a Tom Collins or something that has a lot of ice cubes in it. I drink very slowly. If the hostess wants to refill my glass, I lie a little and say, "Oh no, this is my third."

When her back is turned, I get a ginger ale.

So you see, Ann, a few little tricks can go a long way toward keeping people sober.—SNEAKY ALICE.

-:-

Dear Alice: If this is the way you want to handle it, fine, but I don't see any reason to go to so much trouble. Why not take a ginger ale to begin with and eliminate the hocus-pocus?

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Ted Owens Honored

Kiwanis Club Presents 4-H Award At Luncheon

The annual Kiwanis Club 4-H award was presented to Ted Owens of Shadyside Ave. during a meeting of the club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

The $15 award, presented to the outstanding 4-H youth in the area, was given to Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Owens, by Fred Simmen, club agriculture and conservation committee chairman.

Owens, a freshman at Ohio State University, is a 1965 East Liverpool High School graduate and was a member of the National Honor Society, band, orchestra and the Forum Club.

Owens, by coincidence, was also a recipient of a college scholarship which was awarded by the Kiwanis Club in the Citizens Scholarship Association program.

He was a member of the Hilltoppers 4-H Club, having spent eight years in 4-H work, and has taken county honors in forestry and automotive projects and was a representative to the Club Congress in 1964. He also has held the post of president and other positions in his 4-H group.

Robert Lewis, county 4-H agent, discussed the activities of the county 4-H groups. He said there are 1,558 members, aged 10 to 18, throughout the county, of whom 30 per cent live on farms, 30 per cent in rural non-farm areas and 40 per cent in incorporated communities.

Among the projects of the county 4-H this year was sale of special "slow - moving vehicle" signs for tractors and other vehicles as a safety project.

Lewis said the youths are trained in various skills and citizenship duties.

He told of the 4-H preparation of cookies mailed to servicemen in Viet Nam during "Operation Cookie Jar" in November and read some of the letters of gratitude from men overseas.

Forty attended the meeting at which Alex Kidd presided.

New Coroner To Fire 32 Of 33 Employes

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Dr. William R. Hunt, who takes over Monday as coroner of Allegheny County, says he will fire 32 of the 33 employes now on the coroner's payroll.

Dr. Hunt said Thursday the only holdover from Joseph B. Dobb's administration will be Mrs. Ruth Laufe, a histo-chemical technician who processes microscopic slides.

Dr. Hunt also said he will swear in Dr. Cyril Wecht, a forensic pathologist, on Monday, plus several other appointees who will give the office a distinct medical background.

Hunt, a Republican physician from McKeesport, defeated the Democrat Dobbs in an upset last November.

He based his campaign on charges that Dobbs, as a politician, had no business running an office where medical decisions were made.

Wecht, who served for a time on the staff of Republican Dist. Atty. Robert Duggan, actually sowed the seeds of Dobbs' downfall last year when he charged that murders go undetected in the county because of what he called inefficiency in the coroner's office.

On Car, Truck Fumes

Government Steps Closer To Air Pollution Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government moves closer today to national control of the air polluting materials which spew from cars and light trucks.

Proposed federal standards, to start with 1968 models, are being published in the Federal Register.

Suggested changes can be made during the following 30 days.

Then the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare will make any revisions it deems necessary, and publish the regulations in the Register to take effect immediately.

"With these standards," Welfare Secretary John W. Gardner said, "we will take an important step toward controlling pollution from the nation's greatest single source of air pollution."

The secretary noted that similar standards already have been adopted in California starting with 1966 vehicles.

But a department statement said air pollution research indicates automotive pollutants contribute to eye and throat irritation and possibly to major respiratory diseases in all parts of the country.

And it said studies also have shown vegetation and property damage attributable to such pollution in 27 states and the District of Columbia.

The federal rules would apply to all gasoline-powered automobiles and light trucks, whether manufactured in or imported into the United States.

They were developed following this year's passage of the clean - air act amendments which authorized regulation of vehicle discharges believed a hazard to health or welfare.

Among other things, the proposed standards would set maximum allowable rates for the discharge of two major automotive air pollutants — hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide. Hydrocarbons are a major ingredient in the formation of smog; carbon monoxide is a lethal gas.

Less stringent standards were developed for smaller engines, including the small imported cars, because they discharge smaller volume of pollutants than the larger engines, the department said.

Gardner warned that stiffer controls will be needed before 1980 when motor vehicles will be so numerous as to make the present standards inadequate.

Young Akron Couple Slain Outside Home

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A young couple was shot to death outside their home here late Thursday as their five children listened to the shots from inside the house.

Police said Riffle fired four times at his wife with a .32-caliber pistol as she ran out the back door. She was hit once and fell dead.

Riffle then knelt near his wife's body and killed himself with the pistol, police said.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm almost 18 — old enough to know better, but I didn't. Yesterday the doctor confirmed what I have suspected for several weeks. I'm pregnant.

Last night I told my dad and mother and they went to pieces. My dad demands that I name the person who is responsible. I told him that I'm the person who is responsible. The man rejected me for a year but I chased him shamelessly and finally caught him in a weak moment when he had had too much to drink.

The man is my brother-in-law. If my sister knew she surely would divorce him. I don't want to break up their marriage and hurt innocent people. Furthermore, they have small children whom I love dearly.

I plan to go to a home for unwed mothers and put my baby up for adoption. Then I will move to another city and start life over.

My parents are putting such terrific pressure on me to tell them who the man is that I'm a wreck. Please rush your advice, Ann. I need the strength you can give me — DONE ENOUGH ALREADY.

-:-

Dear Done Enough: Your brother-in-law is getting a better break than he deserves. But I completely agree with you. Dragging his name into the mess would accomplish nothing constructive. It would only do tremendous damage.

So keep quiet, my dear. You'll be glad you did.

Golden Years?

Dear Ann: My husband and I celebrated our 50th wedding anniversary recently. I'm not pinning any medals on myself but it hasn't been easy.

Everyone raves about my pies. They always bring the highest prices at the church bazaar. Dutch apple is my specialty.

Last night my sister and her husband were here to play a little cards. When I brought in the coffee and pie, my husband said, "You've never made a decent pie in your whole life — why don't you give up?"

I laughed, thinking it was some sort of joke. And then he said, "I could do better myself and I'll prove it."

Well, Ann, he stomped into the kitchen and started to pull out everything in sight. The guests left and I went to bed. At 3 a.m. he was still banging around the kitchen.

This morning the kitchen looked like a tornado had hit it. There was no pie in sight.

My sister phoned me and said I should never bake another pie for my husband as long as he lives. I'm inclined to forgive and forget. What do you say?—HURT.

-:-

Dear Hurt: I say if you've lived with this nut for 50 years you don't need any advice from your sister — or from me. Just keep on doing what you're doing. Forgive and forget.

Soda On Rocks

Dear Ann: The letter from the woman who gets "mysteriously stoned" on two drinks sounds like me.

Finally I went to a doctor and discovered that my system cannot handle stimulants (and some medicines) at a normal level.

If I can politely refuse a drink, I do so. If I can't, then I take a Tom Collins or something that has a lot of ice cubes in it. I drink very slowly. If the hostess wants to refill my glass, I lie a little and say, "Oh no, this is my third."

When her back is turned, I get a ginger ale.

So you see, Ann, a few little tricks can go a long way toward keeping people sober.—SNEAKY ALICE.

-:-

Dear Alice: If this is the way you want to handle it, fine, but I don't see any reason to go to so much trouble.

Why not take a ginger ale to begin with and eliminate the hocus-pocus?

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Ted Owens Honored

Kiwanis Club Presents 4-H Award At Luncheon

The annual Kiwanis Club 4-H award was presented to Ted Owens of Shadyside Ave. during a meeting of the club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

The $15 award, presented to the outstanding 4-H youth in the area, was given to Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Owens, by Fred Simmen, club agriculture and conservation committee chairman.

Owens, a freshman at Ohio State University, is a 1965 East Liverpool High School graduate and was a member of the National Honor Society, band, orchestra and the Forum Club.

Owens, by coincidence, was also a recipient of a college scholarship which was sponsored by the Kiwanis Club in Citizens Scholarship Association program.

He was a member of the Hilltoppers 4-H Club, having spent eight years in 4-H work, and has taken county honors in forestry and automotive projects and was a representative to the Club Congress in 1964. He also has held the post of president and other positions in his 4-H group.

Robert Lewis, county 4-H agent, discussed the activities of the county 4-H groups. He said there are 1,558 members, aged 10 to 18, throughout the county, of whom 30 per cent live on farms, 30 per cent in rural non-farm areas and 40 per cent in incorporated communities.

Among the projects of the county 4-H this year was sale of special "slow - moving vehicle" signs for tractors and other vehicles as a safety project.

Lewis said the youths are trained in various skills and citizenship duties.

He told of the 4-H preparation of cookies mailed to servicemen in Viet Nam during "Operation Cookie Jar" in November and read some of the letters of gratitude from men overseas.

Forty attended the meeting at which Alex Kidd presided.

New Coroner To Fire 32 Of 33 Employes

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Dr. William R. Hunt, who takes over Monday as coroner of Allegheny County, says he will fire 32 of the 33 employes now on the coroner's payroll.

Dr. Hunt said Thursday the only holdover from Joseph B. Dobb's administration will be Mrs. Ruth Laufe, a histo-chemical technician who processes microscopic slides.

Dr. Hunt also said he will swear in Dr. Cyril Wecht, a forensic pathologist, on Monday, plus several other appointees who will give the office a distinct medical background.

Hunt, a Republican physician from McKeesport, defeated the Democrat Dobbs in an upset last November.

He based his campaign on charges that Dobbs, as a politician, had no business running an office where medical decisions were made.

Wecht, who served for a time on the staff of Republican Dist. Atty. Robert Duggan, actually sowed the seeds of Dobbs' downfall last year when he charged that murders go undetected in the county because of what he called inefficiency in the coroner's office.

Government Steps Closer To Air Pollution Control

On Car, Truck Fumes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government moves closer today to national control of the air polluting materials which spew from cars and light trucks.

Proposed federal standards, to start with 1968 models, are being published in the Federal Register.

Suggested changes can be made during the following 30 days.

Then the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare will make any revisions it deems necessary, and publish the regulations in the Register to take effect immediately.

"With these standards," Welfare Secretary John W. Gardner said, "we will take an important step toward controlling pollution from the nation's greatest single source of air pollution."

The secretary noted that similar standards already have been adopted in California starting with 1966 vehicles.

But a department statement said air pollution research indicates automotive pollutants contribute to eye and throat irritation and possibly to major respiratory diseases in all parts of the country.

And it said studies also have shown vegetation and property damage attributable to such pollution in 27 states and the District of Columbia.

The federal rules would apply to all gasoline-powered automobiles and light trucks, whether manufactured in or imported into the United States.

They were developed following this year's passage of the clean - air act amendments which authorized regulation of vehicle discharges believed a hazard to health or welfare.

Among other things, the proposed standards would set maximum allowable rates for the discharge of two major automotive air pollutants — hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide. Hydrocarbons are a major ingredient in the formation of smog; carbon monoxide is a lethal gas.

Less stringent standards were developed for smaller engines, including the small imported cars, because they discharge smaller volume of pollutants than the larger engines, the department said.

Gardner warned that stiffer controls will be needed before 1980 when motor vehicles will be so numerous as to make the present standards inadequate.

Young Akron Couple Slain Outside Home

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A young couple was shot to death outside their home here late Thursday as their five children listened to the shots from inside the house.

Deputy Coroner Karl Stevens ruled murder and suicide in the deaths of Percy Riffle, 27, and his wife, Connie, 23. Each died of a single bullet wound in the head.

Police said Riffle fired four times at his wife with a .32-caliber pistol as she ran out the back door. She was hit once and fell dead.

Riffle then knelt near his wife's body and killed himself with the pistol, police said.

$200,000 Damage Set In Cleveland Blaze

CLEVELAND (AP)—A fire which raged out of control for about three and one-half hours Thursday night did an estimated $200,000 damage to a building housing two businesses.

Three firemen were taken to a hospital and at least 12 others were treated for smoke inhalation at the scene.

About 150 firemen were called. They poured water on nearby buildings to keep the flames from spreading as hundreds of spectators watched.

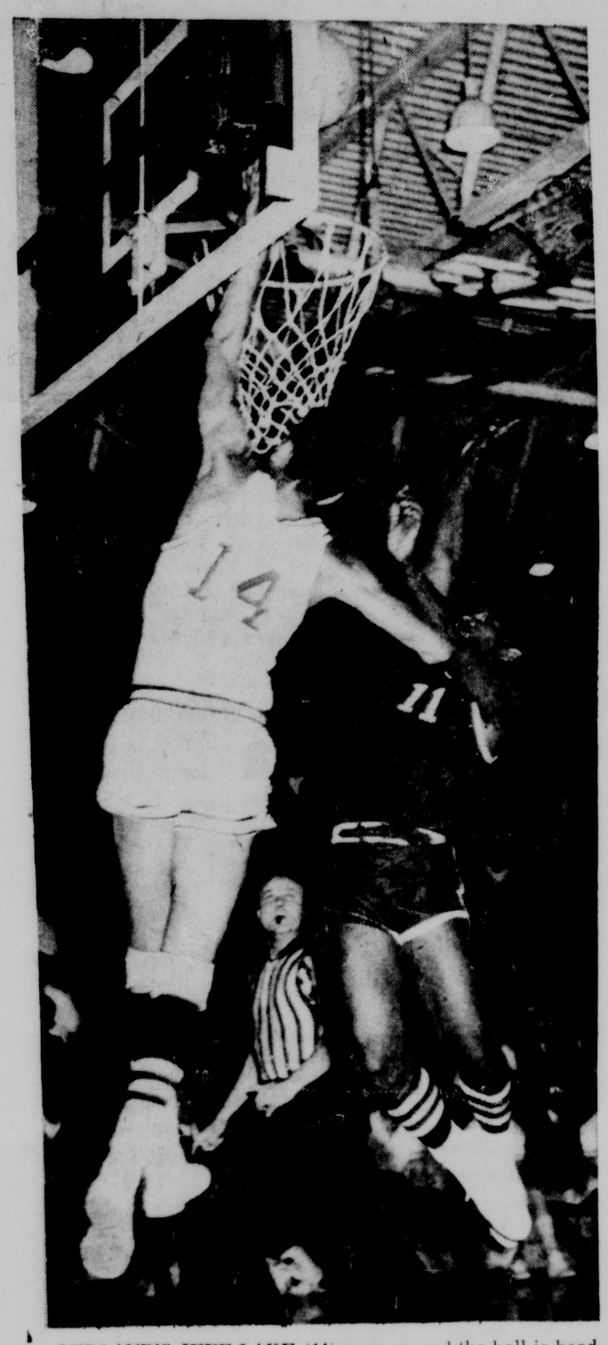
Uniontown Ends Midland Reign In Holiday Tourney



MIDLAND'S JEFF LAKE (14) goes up and the ball is headed for two points as Uniontown's Willie Minor (11) arrives too late to stop Lake from scoring. Uniontown won the Holiday Tournament title in a 54-39 victory.

Leopards Lead For Three Periods In 54-39 Loss

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

For three quarters Thursday night, Midland fought gallantly to defend its four-year reign in the Holiday Tournament, but crumbled in the final eight minutes as Uniontown rushed by to a 54-39 victory.

Another capacity crowd of some 2,300 saw the taller Uniontown five finally wear its opponent into submission in the fourth period after the Leopards had battled to a 36-34 edge at the end of three quarters.

Coach Abe Everhart's talented Uniontown squad was tabbed the pre-tournament favorite, but for awhile last night its status was doubtful.

Uniontown, a WPIAL powerhouse year after year, boosted its season record to 7-1, while Midland tasted defeat for the third time in 10 outings.

—:—

THE RED Raiders, trailing by two points entering the fourth quarter, went on to outscore the Leopards 9 to 1 in the first three minutes of the period and held a 43-37 advantage with 5:04 remaining.

Midland could not overcome Uniontown's lead at this point and for the first time in the five-year history of the tournament a new champion was crowned.

Uniontown outscored Midland 20-3 in the final quarter as the Leopards' shooting went completely sour in contrast to its well-played game during the previous three periods.

—:—

COACH Hank Kuzma saw his team hit on only one of 12 shots in the disastrous quarter.

The rebounding and timely scoring in the second half by 6-5 Ray Parsons, voted the tourney's most valuable player, turned the tide for the Raiders.

Parsons finished the championship tilt with 16 points, but his presence was felt heavily on the boards where he grabbed 17 rebounds. Eleven of his points came in the second half.

The new champions showed a 38-23 edge in the rebounding department.

The Review Sports
FRIDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1965 PAGE 10

THE CAPACITY crowd, which showed up for the second straight night, witnessed a nip-and-tuck battle for three quarters as Kuzma applied all types of strategy in an effort to claim the fifth straight holiday title.

Midland attempted a slow-down type game at times, but occasionally proved successful with a running offense.

The Leopards moved the ball carefully, but when points were needed in the fourth period Midland failed to score and Uniontown dominated the backboards.

—:—

MIDLAND kept pace or a step ahead of Uniontown throughout three quarters and finished the first period in front 12-11. Sandy Martins dropped in a field goal with 1:07 left to put the Leopards on top.

Uniontown had managed to gain a four-point lead midway through the second quarter, but Jeff Lake, who had scored 24 points the night before to lead Midland into the finals, appeared on the scene.

He went on to score seven consecutive points on a pair of field goals and three fouls, which moved Midland into a 22-19 lead with two minutes left in the first half.

—:—

DURING the final two minutes of the half, Uniontown chose to freeze the ball and play for one shot. Everhart's strategy paid off as Willie Minor popped in a bucket with four seconds left, bringing the Raiders within one point, 22-21, as the buzzer sounded.

In the third period, Rich Mahurt pushed it two quick goals, while Brent Lake followed with two fouls and Larry Walker one to put Midland in front 30-26, for its biggest lead of the game.

With 2:07 remaining in the third stanza, the Leopards pushed their advantage to six points following field goals by Brent Lake and Martins. The Raiders woke up to the fact they trailed by six and Ray Parsons and Willie Bryant scored to cut Midland's lead to 34-32.

—:—

BEFORE the period closed, John Williams and Minor exchanged buckets and Midland continued to lead 36-34.

The clock read 7:31 in the fourth period when Ray Parsons tied the game at 36-36.

Norm Grover, a husky 6-3 senior, who hadn't scored until the fourth period, dropped in a field goal. After a foul by Williams brought the Leopards within one, 38-37, Grover turned in a three-point play and Minor drove for two more, pushing the lead to 43-37 with 5:04 left.

Jeff Lake scored the only field goal for Midland in the fourth period and seconds later committed his fifth foul with 4:10 left.

—:—

LAKE'S goal was the last time Midland scored as Uniontown went on to close out the contest by tallying 11 straight points.

Behind Parsons in the Uniontown scoring were Bryant and Minor with 10 points each.

Jeff and Brent Lake tied for honors in the Midland camp with 11 each.

Both teams showed about the same floor average, with Midland hitting 32 per cent on 14 of 43 and Uniontown 21 of 66.

—:—

SEVEN players, led by Parsons, were selected on the all-tourney squad. They included Jeff Lake, Jim Payne of New Castle, Bryant, while Brent Lake, Caleb Leggett and Minor tied for the fifth position on the team.

Trophies were presented following the game by tourney queen Kandy Rehanik of Uniontown. Uniontown High made it a clean sweep by winning the cheerleading trophy.

Oddsmakers See Green Bay By 1½

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The long-range weather forecast for Packerland calls for a little rain and possibly a little snow for the rest of the week, leading up to a cloudy Sunday with the thermometer in the mid 20s and perhaps a light dusting of snow for the big game.

In other words, get ready for anything. Green Bay has been working all week on a damp practice field with soggy turf over a frozen base. It is something like lemon chiffon pie with a cement crust.

A capacity crowd of 50,852 is assured for the National Football League championship contest between the Packers and the Cleveland Browns at 2:10 p.m., EST Sunday at Lambeau Stadium.

The game will be seen and heard on CBS radio and television, with Green Bay blacked out on TV.

Because of the slippery field, Coach Vince Lombardi has had to be careful with his limping warriors, especially Jim Taylor. The Packer fullback pulled a groin muscle recently and is trying to nurse it back into shape. As a result he has not been running full speed on the soupy field.

Don't get the idea that the game will be played in these conditions. Lambeau Stadium rests cozily under a layer of hay plus a tarp. It will be playable and surprisingly good, depending upon the weather then they roll the tarp back Sunday morning and remove the hay.

With about $7,000 at stake for every winning share and $4,600 for each loser, everybody expects another hard-hitting game like last Sunday's Baltimore-Green Bay battle. In case of a tie they will play sudden-death overtime once again.

Cleveland is due tonight and will bed down in a motel in Appleton 25 miles away. Coach Blanton Collier plans to herd the Browns into town for a brief workout Saturday morning following Green Bay's final limbering up session.

If it is true that the oddsmakers have made the Packers a slim 1½ - point favorites they must be counting on the Green Bay defense. The Packers gave up only 22 touchdowns in regular season play, 11 on the ground and 11 in the air. The Browns yielded 43 TDs, 12 on runs and 31 on passes.

With these statistics in mind it is easy to see why Bart Starr's physical condition is of paramount importance to the Packers. Green Bay's No. 1 quarterback and passing threat suffered bruises on the right side and back when blocked by Jim Welch in Sunday's game with Baltimore. He resumed passing Wednesday and has been improving a little each day.

"I'll play," insists Starr. Lombardi continues to adopt the wait-and-see attitude

Jim Brown gives the defending team champions a big edge in running, with the assist of halfback Ernie Green. Both are dangerous pass receivers as well. The ground game is Cleveland's basic attack. When it is clicking it gives Frank Ryan time to find and hit Paul Warfield and Gary Collins, his favorite targets.

The Packers' pair of Taylor and Paul Hornung floundered during most of the season, but began to come on after Lombardi reshuffled his offensive line. Hornung scored five touchdowns against Baltimore Dec. 12, and has to be the big threat in this one.

Anderson Set For $600,000 With Packers

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)— Donny Anderson, Texas Tech's two-time All-America backfield star, will sign a contract with the Green Bay Packers today for around $600,000, making him the highest-paid rookie ever in professional football, The Associated Press learned Thursday night.

Anderson refused to make a commitment but a close friend and adviser said the 215-pound halfback was leaning toward the National Football League team over the rival Houston Oilers of the American Football League, earlier reported ready to cough up $800,000.

Anderson's attorney, H. J. (Doc) Blanchard of Lubbock, Tex., said the athlete would make a decision after today's Gator Bowl game against Georgia Tech.

Consolation Honors Go To McKeesport

McKeesport High walked off with consolation honors in the 1965 Holiday Tournament at Midland with a 62-42 victory over New Castle Thursday night.

Leading by only two points, 18-16 after a low scoring first half, McKeesport came on to score 4 points in the second half.

The Tigers moved swiftly to a 38-26 lead at the end of the third period and stretched the margin in the fourth quarter.

Royce Durden and Ray Robertson combined to spark the Tigers with 18 and 16 points respectively.

Jim Payne tallied over half of New Castle's points with a 23 point effort.

Garrett's Seen Headed For Kansas City In AFL

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mike Garrett, University of Southern California star halfback, apparently will go to Kansas City of the American Football league, it was disclosed here Thursday.

Announcement of the move was made by owner Dan Reeves of the Los Angeles Rams.

The National Football League team president struck a sad note as he said:

"We have learned tonight that Mike Garrett will not be with the Rams. We are sorry and we wish him well.

"It was not possible for us to sign Garrett and retain our sense of proportion. Specifically, I refer to our efforts to be as fair as possible to all those within the Ram organization."

Garrett was the 20th draft choice of Kansas City, but the No. 2 pick of the Rams.

The Heisman Trophy winner in his senior year with USC, Garrett was said to be worth 10,000 extra fans a game in Los Angeles.

Orange Bowl at Miami — Nebraska, 10-0, vs. Alabama, 8-1-1, 8 p.m. EST, NBC-TV.

Michigan State ranks as the country's No. 1 team, followed in order by Arkansas, Nebraska, Alabama, UCLA and Missouri. The Associated Press' panel of experts will vote in a poll after the New Year's games, with the national championship going to the top-ranked team.

Donny Anderson of Texas Tech, the versatile two-time All-America halfback, will be the chief attraction in the Gator Bowl. However, this one also matches up two star quarterbacks, Tom Wilson of the Red Raiders and Georgia Tech sophomore Kim King.

As usual, the East-West game will present an impressive cast. Seven All-Americas will be in action — fullback Jim Grabowski of Illinois, linebackers Frank Emanuel of Tennessee and Dwight Kelley of Ohio State, center Pat Killorin of Syracuse and end Aaron Brown of Minnesota for the East; and halfback Mike Garrett of Southern California and linebacker Carl McAdams of Oklahoma for the West.

Texas Christian, off a more rugged schedule, rates as a slight favorite over Texas Western. But the Horned Frogs will have to contend with an aerial blitz from the Miners, led by sophomore marksman Billy Stevens. He passed for 21 touchdowns this season, and gained over 3,000 yards through the air.

Michigan State Band Visits Here In March

The Michigan State University band, which will appear in the Rose Bowl parade and perform at halftime of the Rose Bowl game New Year's Day, will present a concert in East Liverpool March 23 at Memorial Auditorium, Vincent Maola, supervisor of music, announced.

Duquesne Whips The Citadel In Recording Fifth

Duquesne and Westminster won, but California lost Thursday night in basketball games against out-of-state opponents.

All five Duquesne starters scored in the double figures as the Dukes walloped the Citadel 86-60 at the Civic Arena in Pittsburgh.

Frank Miniotas and Rich Carlberg paced the Dukes to their fifth win in seven outings, netting 16 apiece.

In the other half of the Civic Arena twin bill Gannon overcame a halftime deficit to defeat St. Francis 76-69.

Westminster triumphed 70-58 over Montclair State to win the consolation game of the Central Connecticut Tournament.

California's defeat came at the hands of Fairmont which romped by the Pennsylvanians 102-75 in the Fairmont Invitational in West Virginia.

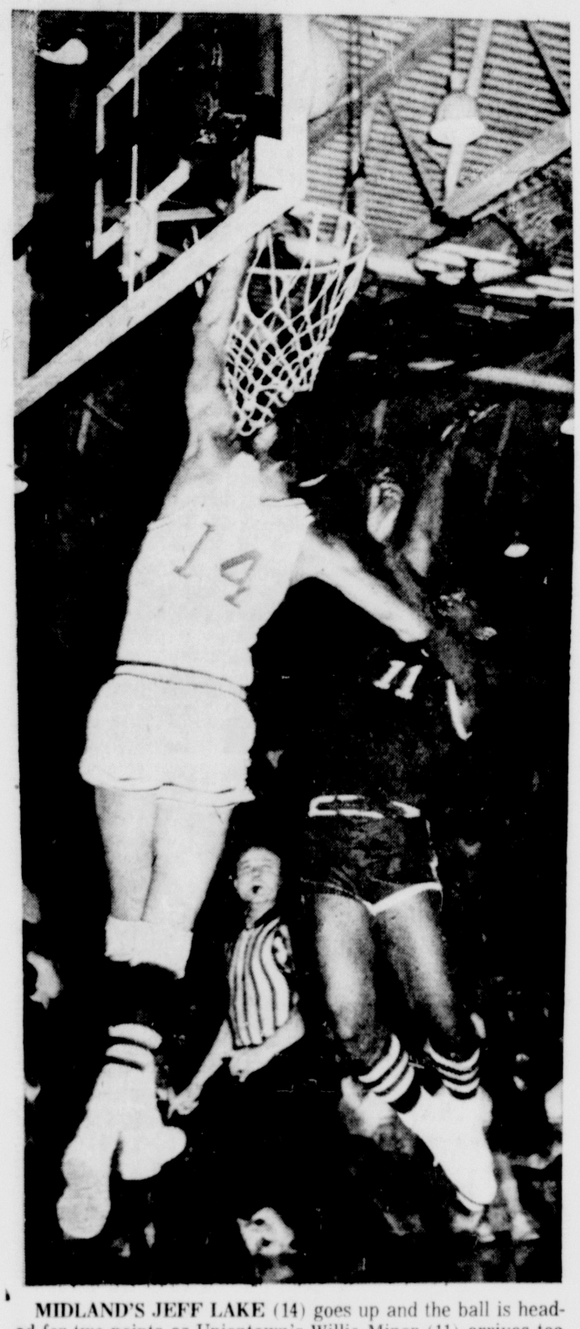
Uniontown Ends Midland Reign In Holiday Tourney



MIDLAND'S JEFF LAKE (14) goes up and the ball is headed for two points as Uniontown's Willie Minor (11) arrives too late to stop Lake from scoring. Uniontown won the Holiday Tournament title in a 54-39 victory.

Leopards Lead For Three Periods In 54-39 Loss

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

For three quarters Thursday night, Midland fought gallantly to defend its four-year reign in the Holiday Tournament, but crumbled in the final eight minutes as Uniontown rushed by to a 54-39 victory.

Another capacity crowd of some 2,300 saw the taller Uniontown five finally wear its opponent into submission in the fourth period after the Leopards had battled to a 36-34 edge at the end of three quarters.

Coach Abe Everhart's talented Uniontown squad was tabbed the pre-tournament favorite, but for awhile last night its status was doubtful.

Uniontown, a WPIAL powerhouse year after year, boosted its season record to 7-1, while Midland tasted defeat for the third time in 10 outings.

—:—

THE RED Raiders, trailing by two points entering the fourth quarter, went on to outscore the Leopards 9 to 1 in the first three minutes of the period and held a 43-37 advantage with 5:04 remaining.

Midland could not overcome Uniontown's lead at this point and for the first time in the five-year history of the tournament a new champion was crowned.

Uniontown outscored Midland 20-3 in the final quarter as the Leopards' shooting went completely sour in contrast to its well-played game during the previous three periods.

—:—

COACH Hank Kuzma saw his team hit on only one of 12 shots in the disastrous quarter.

The rebounding and timely scoring in the second half by 6-5 Ray Parsons, voted the tourney's most valuable player, turned the tide for the Raiders.

Parsons finished the championship tilt with 16 points, but his presence was felt heavily on the boards where he grabbed 17 rebounds. Eleven of his points came in the second half.

The new champions showed a 38-23 edge in the rebounding department.

THE CAPACITY crowd, which showed up for the second straight night, witnessed a nip-and-tuck battle for three quarters as Kuzma applied all types of strategy in an effort to claim the fifth straight holiday title.

Midland attempted a slow-down type game at times, but occasionally proved successful with a running offense.

The Leopards moved the ball carefully, but when points were needed in the fourth period Midland failed to score and Uniontown dominated the backboards.

—:—

MIDLAND kept pace or a step ahead of Uniontown throughout three quarters and finished the first period in front 12-11. Sandy Martins dropped in a field goal with 1:07 left to put the Leopards on top.

Uniontown had managed to gain a four-point lead midway through the second quarter, but Jeff Lake, who had scored 24 points the night before to lead Midland into the finals, appeared on the scene.

He went on to score seven consecutive points on a pair of field goals and three fouls, which moved Midland into a 22-19 lead with two minutes left in the first half.

—:—

DURING the final two minutes of the half, Uniontown chose to freeze the ball and play for one shot. Everhart's strategy paid off as Willie Minor popped in a bucket with four seconds left, bringing the Raiders within one point, 22-21, as the buzzer sounded.

In the third period, Rich Mahurt pushed in two quick goals, while Brent Lake followed with two fouls and Larry Walker one to put Midland in front 30-26, for its biggest lead of the game.

With 2.07 remaining in the third stanza, the Leopards pushed their advantage to six points following field goals by Brent Lake and Martins. The Raiders woke up to the fact they trailed by six and Ray Parsons and Willie Bryant scored to cut Midland's lead to 34-32.

—:—

BEFORE the period closed, John Williams and Minor exchanged buckets and Midland continued to lead 36-34.

The clock read 7:31 in the fourth period when Ray Parsons tied the game at 36-36.

Norm Grover, a husky 6-3 senior, who hadn't scored until the fourth period, dropped in a field goal. After a foul by Williams brought the Leopards within one, 38-37, Grover turned in a three-point play and Minor drove for two more, pushing the lead to 43-37 with 5:04 left.

Jeff Lake scored the only field goal for Midland in the fourth period and seconds later committed his fifth foul with 4:10 left.

—:—

LAKE'S goal was the last time Midland scored as Uniontown went on to close out the contest by tallying 11 straight points.

Behind Parsons in the Uniontown scoring were Bryant and Minor with 10 points each.

Jeff and Brent Lake tied for honors in the Midland camp with 11 each.

Both teams showed about the same floor average, with Midland hitting 32 per cent on 14 of 43 and Uniontown 21 of 66.

—:—

SEVEN players, led by Parsons, were selected on the all-tourney squad. They included Jeff Lake, Jim Payne of New Castle, Bryant, while Brent Lake, Caleb Leggett and Minor tied for the fifth position on the team.

Trophies were presented following the game by tourney queen Kandy Rehanik of Uniontown. Uniontown High made it a clean sweep by winning the cheerleading trophy.

Oddsmakers See Green Bay By 1½

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The long-range weather forecast for Packerland calls for a little rain and possibly a little snow for the rest of the week, leading up to a cloudy Sunday with the thermometer in the mid 20s and perhaps a light dusting of snow for the big game.

In other words, get ready for anything. Green Bay has been working all week on a damp practice field with soggy turf over a frozen base. It is something like lemon chiffon pie with a cement crust.

A capacity crowd of 50,852 is assured for the National Football League championship contest between the Packers and the Cleveland Browns at 2:10 p.m., EST Sunday at Lambeau Stadium.

The game will be seen and heard on CBS radio and television, with Green Bay blacked out on TV.

Because of the slippery field, Coach Vince Lombardi has had to be careful with his limping warriors, especially Jim Taylor. The Packer fullback pulled a groin muscle recently and is trying to nurse it back into shape. As a result he has not been running full speed on the soupy field.

Don't get the idea that the game will be played in these conditions. Lambeau Stadium rests cozily under a layer of hay plus a tarp. It will be playable and surprisingly good, depending upon the weather then they roll the tarp back Sunday morning and remove the hay.

With about $7,000 at stake for every winning share and $4,600 for each loser, everybody expects another hard-hitting game like last Sunday's Baltimore-Green Bay battle. In case of a tie they will play sudden-death overtime once again.

Cleveland is due tonight and will bed down in a motel in Appleton 25 miles away. Coach Blanton Collier plans to herd the Browns into town for a brief workout Saturday morning following Green Bay's final limbering up session.

If it is true that the oddsmakers have made the Packers a slim 1½ - point favorites they must be counting on the Green Bay defense. The Packers gave up only 22 touchdowns in regular season play, 11 on the ground and 11 in the air. The Browns yielded 43 TDs, 12 on runs and 31 on passes.

With these statistics in mind it is easy to see why Bart Starr's physical condition is of paramount importance to the Packers. Green Bay's No. 1 quarterback and passing threat suffered bruises on the right side and back when blocked by Jim Welch in Sunday's game with Baltimore. He resumed passing Wednesday and has been improving a little each day.

"I'll play," insists Starr. Lombardi continues to adopt the wait-and-see attitude

Jim Brown gives the defending team champions a big edge in running, with the assist of halfback Ernie Green. Both are dangerous pass receivers as well. The ground game is Cleveland's basic attack. When it is clicking it gives Frank Ryan time to find and hit Paul Warfield and Gary Collins, his favorite targets.

The Packers' pair of Taylor and Paul Hornung floundered during most of the season, but began to come on after Lombardi reshuffled his offensive line. Hornung scored five touchdowns against Baltimore Dec. 12, and has to be the big threat in this one.

Anderson Set For $600,000 With Packers

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)— Donny Anderson, Texas Tech's two-time All-America backfield star, will sign a contract with the Green Bay Packers today for around $600,000, making him the highest-paid rookie ever in professional football, The Associated Press learned Thursday night.

Anderson refused to make a commitment but a close friend and adviser said the 215-pound halfback was leaning toward the National Football League team over the rival Houston Oilers of the American Football League, earlier reported ready to cough up $800,000.

Anderson's attorney, H. J. (Doc) Blanchard of Lubbock, Tex., said the athlete would make a decision after today's Gator Bowl game against Georgia Tech.

Consolation Honors Go To McKeesport

McKeesport High walked off with consolation honors in the 1965 Holiday Tournament at Midland with a 62-42 victory over New Castle Thursday night.

The contest was marked by a heavy number of fouls during the rough and tumble action.

Coach Neenie Campbell's outfit, beaten in the first round by Midland, broke the consolation tilt wide open in the second half.

Leading by only two points, 18-16 after a low scoring first half, McKeesport came on to score 4 points in the second half.

The Tigers moved swiftly to a 38-26 lead at the end of the third period and stretched the margin in the fourth quarter.

Royce Durden and Ray Robertson combined to spark the Tigers with 18 and 16 points respectively.

Jim Payne tallied over half of New Castle's points with a 23 point effort.

Garrett's Seen Headed For Kansas City In AFL

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mike Garrett, University of Southern California star halfback, apparently will go to Kansas City of the American Football league, it was disclosed here Thursday.

Announcement of the move was made by owner Dan Reeves of the Los Angeles Rams.

The National Football League team president struck a sad note as he said:

"We have learned tonight that Mike Garrett will not be with the Rams. We are sorry and we wish him well.

"It was not possible for us to sign Garrett and retain our sense of proportion. Specifically, I refer to our efforts to be as fair as possible to all those within the Ram organization."

Garrett was the 20th draft choice of Kansas City, but the No. 2 pick of the Rams.

The Heisman Trophy winner in his senior year with USC, Garrett was said to be worth 10,000 extra fans a game in Los Angeles.

Big Four On New Year's Day

Gator, Shrine, Sun Games Today Launch Big Weekend

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

College football makes its biggest post-season splurge this weekend with seven major games, topped by the Big Four on New Year's Day.

On today's schedule are the Gator Bowl, Sun Bowl and East-West Shrine Game. Saturday's prime ones are the Rose, Cotton, Orange and Sugar bowls — four games that will put the nation's top six teams on display.

Here is the schedule, with records, kickoff times and television coverage:

TODAY

Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla. — Georgia Tech, 6-3-1, vs. Texas Tech, 8-2, 2 p.m. EST, ABC-TV.

Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex. — Texas Western, 7-3, vs. Texas Christian, 6-4, 4 p.m. EST.

East-West All-Star Game at San Francisco — 4:45 p.m. EST, NBC-TV.

SATURDAY

Cotton Bowl at Dallas — Arkansas, 10-0, vs. Louisiana State, 7-3, 2 p.m. EST, CBS-TV.

Sugar Bowl at New Orleans — Missouri, 7-2-1, vs. Florida, 7-3, 2 p.m. EST, NBC-TV.

Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif. — Michigan State, 10-0, vs. UCLA, 7-2-1, 5 p.m. EST, NBC-TV.

Orange Bowl at Miami — Nebraska, 10-0, vs. Alabama, 8-1-1, 8 p.m. EST, NBC-TV.

Michigan State ranks as the country's No. 1 team, followed in order by Arkansas, Nebraska, Alabama, UCLA and Missouri. The Associated Press' panel of experts will vote in a poll after the New Year's games, with the national championship going to the top-ranked team.

Donny Anderson of Texas Tech, the versatile two-time All-America halfback, will be the chief attraction in the Gator Bowl. However, this one also matches up two star quarterbacks, Tom Wilson of the Red Raiders and Georgia Tech sophomore Kim King.

As usual, the East-West game will present an impressive cast. Seven All-Americas will be in action — fullback Jim Grabowski of Illinois, linebackers Frank Emanuel of Tennessee and Dwight Kelley of Ohio State, center Pat Killorin of Syracuse and end Aaron Brown of Minnesota for the East; and halfback Mike Garrett of Southern California and linebacker Carl McAdams of Oklahoma for the West.

Texas Christian, off a more rugged schedule, rates as a slight favorite over Texas Western. But the Horned Frogs will have to contend with an aerial blitz from the Miners, led by sophomore marksman Billy Stevens. He passed for 21 touchdowns this season, and gained over 3,000 yards through the air.

Michigan State Band Visits Here In March

The Michigan State University band, which will appear in the Rose Bowl parade and perform at halftime of the Rose Bowl game New Year's Day, will present a concert in East Liverpool March 23 at Memorial Auditorium, Vincent Maola, supervisor of music, announced.

Duquesne Whips The Citadel In Recording Fifth

All five Duquesne starters scored in the double figures as the Dukes walloped the Citadel 86-60 at the Civic Arena in Pittsburgh.

Frank Miniotas and Rich Carlberg paced the Dukes to their fifth win in seven outings, netting 16 apiece.

In the other half of the Civic Arena twin bill Gannon overcame a halftime deficit to defeat St. Francis 76-69.

Westminster triumphed 70-58 over Montclair State to win the consolation game of the Central Connecticut Tournament.

California's defeat came at the hands of Fairmont which romped by the Pennsylvanians 102-75 in the Fairmont Invitational in West Virginia.

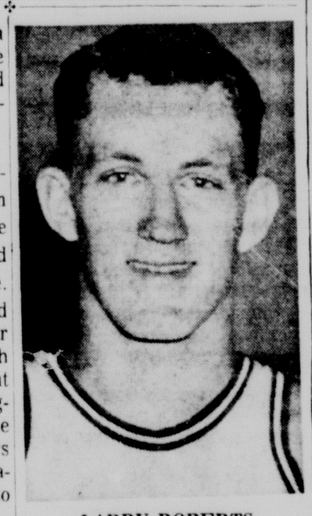
Beavers Push School's Longest Victory Streak To 7

Roberts Scores 12 Of 25 In Final Period For 62-57 Decision

Beaver Local rang out the old year by establishing the school's longest winning streak in a 62-57 victory at Springfield Local of Jefferson County Thursday night.

The decision was the seventh in a row for Coach Lloyd Stockdale's surprising outfit which bettered the old school record of six straight set during the final six games of last season.



LARRY ROBERTS
Scores 12 In Last Period.

LLOYD STOCKDALE
Winning Streak Hits 7.

Larry Roberts closed out a brilliant 25 - point performance with 12 points in the final period to keep the Beavers' record unblemished.

—:—

THE BEAVERS, who remained the only undefeated team in the district, trailed 10-9 at the end of the first quarter but tied the contest at 26-26 by halftime.

The two teams battled nip and tuck through the third quarter which ended 40-38. In the fourth period, Beaver Local moved out to a nine point lead but Springfield came back and cut the margin to three. The Tigers never came any closer, as Beaver stepped up the attack to preserve the victory.

—:—

STOCKDALE pointed out the timely outside shooting of sophomore Dave Horger who came off the bench to net a valuable six points in the third quarter.

Horger hit three goals from the top of the key, to loosen the Springfield defense giving Roberts an opportunity to go to work from inside.

—:—

ROBERTS also pulled down 13 rebounds against the taller Springfield five while Bill Barnhart grabbed 11 and tallied an important 14 points.

Beaver Local enjoyed one of its better shooting nights hitting 45 per cent of the time on 23 of 51 but the difference actually came at the foul line.

Springfield held a 26-23 edge in field goals but the Beavers made the most of the charity line hitting 16 of 24 while the home team only made five of 12. Springfield shot 38 per cent on 26 of 67.

Springfield won the reserve contest, 35-32, with Mike Piatt scoring 11 points in a losing effort.

Dayton, Temple, Iowa Taste First Loss

Only 3 Teams Remain Undefeated

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The old year has just about been wiped out and so has the list of major college basketball teams.

The unblemished list was cut in half Thursday night with Dayton, Temple and fourth-ranked Iowa the latest casualties.

Only three teams, Texas Western, Bradley and Kentucky, still have perfect records as the colleges turn into the new year and begin concentrating on conference play.

Dayton was the stubbornest of the trio that went down, losing 77-75 to Maryland in the finals of the Sugar Bowl Tournament at New Orleans, La., after winning nine straight.

Henry Finkel, Dayton's 6-foot-11 center, poured in a record 44 points for the Flyers before fouling out with six seconds to play. Neil Brayton led Maryland with 19 as four Terps reached double figures.

Eighth - ranked St. Joseph's burst the Temple bubble with a 97-65 rout that wrapped up the Quaker City Tournament crown at Philadelphia.

The Hawks, who had dropped two games on the road last week, turned on a devastating fast break that opened a 20-point halftime bulge. Matt Guokas led St. Joe's with 25 as Temple's 10-game string ended.

Texas Western stretched its string to 10 games while ending Iowa's at eight. The unranked Miners ran up a 40-19 halftime lead after blanking the Hawkeyes from the field for the first 10½ minutes. The 86-68 victory, paced by Nevil Shed's 17 points, clinched the Sun Carnival Tournament for host Texas Western.

In New York, Providence's Jimmy Walker scored a record 56 points as the 10th-ranked Friars downed Boston College 91-86 for the Holiday Festival title.

Oregon State won the Far West Classic for the 10th straight year at Portland, beating Stanford 62-46 in the final after Michigan All-America Cazzie Russell had set a three-game record with 91 points. Russell threw a scare into the seventh - ranked Wolverines when he fell heavily as Michigan gained fourth place with a 93-79 victory over Washington State.

Host Oklahoma City turned on a stall and captured the All College Tournament, beating Virginia Tech 99-90. Defending national champion UCLA took the Los Angeles Classic 94-76 over crosstown rival Southern California.

In other tournaments, Clemson took the Poinsettia Classic at Greenville, S.C., downing Manhattan 77-67, Penn State's zone defense beat host Florida 54-52 in the Gator Bowl tourney and Kansas won the Big Eight Tournament 71-61 over Nebraska at Kansas City, Mo.

The only other ranked teams that saw action were No. 2 Vanderbilt and No. 9 Minnesota, and both bounced back from upset losses with victories.

The Commodores took third place in the Los Angeles Classic with a 94-72 victory over Purdue behind Keith Thomas' 30 points. Minnesota beat LaSalle 92-87 for third place in the Quaker City tourney.

McKeesport's Little Tigers On Top, 34-0

MCALLEN, Tex. (AP) — The McKeesport, Pa., Little Tigers used a dazzling ground offense which combined perfect timing with jumping, twisting, shifting backfield action to defeat the Oak Cliff Jets of Dallas 34-0 Thursday night in the 17th annual Milk Bowl football game.

The 11-to-14-year-old Pennsylvania players used the old Notre Dame single wing to move the ball on the ground, and used concentrated ball control consistently.

The lop-sided statistics told the story of the game: the Tigers gained 355 yards on the ground and in the air compared to only 98 yards for the Dallas team.

Dallas tried to play an aerial game but connected on only one of seven passes and had two intercepted.

Richard Yednak, 13-year-old McKeesport halfback, ran 14 points across the goal line in the second quarter after a scoreless first period.

Mickey Mantle, New York Yankees slugger, traded his striped uniform for a conservative business suit to make a halftime appearance. He awarded trophies to both teams.

Bearcats Continue Hot Pace In 117-87 Rout

By The Associated Press

Red-hot Cincinnati continues to mow down the opposition but potent Dayton finally bit the dust.

The Bearcats rolled over Wake Forest Thursday night, 117-87, chalking up their highest point total in five years but Dayton bowed for the first time after eight straight victories losing the Sugan Bowl Classic to Maryland 77-75.

It was a bitter defeat for the Flyers who got a career-record performance from Hank Finkel in a vain effort. Finkel, the 6-foot - 11 sharpshooting senior, bucketed 44 points.

Dayton struggled from a 47-33 halftime deficit to deadlock the Terps late in the game but free throws won it for Maryland.

Cincinnati senior Roland West registered a whopping 35 points in a first half explosion but was benched in the second half because of foul trouble. He finished with 39 as the Bearcats won their eighth in nine starts.

In the only other non-tournament action, Ohio University toyed with Brown in a 90-52 conquest as John Schroeder rang up 22 points and 22 rebounds and teammate Ken Fowlkes grabbed 26 rebounds.

Miami, Central State, Findlay, Mount Union and Capital won holiday tournaments.

Jim Patterson nailed 28 points as Miami pulled away in the second half to down Arkansas State 81-61 in the Arkansas State Invitational.

Central led all the way in edging Calvin, Mich., 72-70 to cop the Calvin College holiday meet.

Jim Carder's playmaking and 19 points led Findlay to a third straight championship in its own holiday tournament with a 79-67 whipping of Steubenville.

Mt. Union nabbed its second sponsored tourney in a row by shading Hiram 69-61 as Chick Campbell posted 20.

Capital had an easy time winning its first holiday festival with a 104-83 romp over Wilmington.

In others, Xavier battled from 21 points back to overhaul Wyoming 90-86 for consolation honors in the All-College at Oklahome City.

In the same tourney, Bowling Green snapped a seven-game losing streak by belting Texas A & M 85-72 for seventh place.

Ohio Northern took fifth spot in the Marshall, Mich., Optimist Classic by clouting Adrian, 105-79.

Browns Out To Win 2 Back-To-Back Titles

CLEVELAND (AP)—The defending champion Cleveland Browns will be trying to become the first team in National Football League history to win consecutive championships twice when they meet hte Green Bay Packers in the title game Sunday at Green Bay.

Paul Brown's teams with Otto Graham at quarterback won back-to-back titles in 1954 and 1955. Only five other teams have turned the trick since the title game playoff was inaugurated in 1933. Green Bay was the most recent, winning in 1961 and 1962.

Other teams to do the job were the Chicago Bears in 1940 and 1941; the Philadelphia Eagles, 1948 and 1949; the Detroit Lions, 1952 and 1953; and the Baltimore Colts, 1958 and 1959.

Cleveland center John Morrow brought proof from Thursday's practice session that the Browns' defensive team is working hard in preparation for Sunday's game.

Morrow was hit when he attempted to block as the club concentrated on defense and he came out of the encounter with bruised ribs. Dr. Vic Ippolito, the team's physician, said x-rays showed there was no injury and that Morrow shouldn't be hampered in the championship game.

Quarterback Frank Ryan returned to the practice field and was feeling well enough to kid about the abdominal pains that kept him out of action Wednesday.

"I started to feel much better when I read how well Nino (quarterback Jim Ninowski) was throwing," Ryan quipped.

Beavers Push School's Longest Victory Streak To 7

Roberts Scores 12 Of 25 In Final Period For 62-57 Decision

Beaver Local rang out the old year by establishing the school's longest winning streak in a 62-57 victory at Springfield Local of Jefferson County Thursday night.

The decision was the seventh in a row for Coach Lloyd Stockdale's surprising outfit which bettered the old school record of six straight set during the final six games of last season.

LLOYD STOCKDALE
Winning Streak Hits 7.

Larry Roberts closed out a brilliant 25 - point performance with 12 points in the final period to keep the Beavers' record unblemished.

—:—

THE BEAVERS, who remained the only undefeated team in the district, trailed 10-9 at the end of the first quarter but tied the contest at 26-26 by halftime.

The two teams battled nip and tuck through the third quarter which ended 40-38. In the fourth period, Beaver Local moved out to a nine point lead but Springfield came back and cut the margin to three. The Tigers never came any closer, as Beaver stepped up the attack to preserve the victory.

—:—

STOCKDALE pointed out the timely outside shooting of sophomore Dave Horger who came off the bench to net a valuable six points in the third quarter.

Horger hit three goals from the top of the key, to loosen the Springfield defense giving Roberts an opportunity to go to work from inside.

—:—

ROBERTS also pulled down 13 rebounds against the taller Springfield five while Bill Barnhart grabbed 11 and tallied an important 14 points.

Beaver Local enjoyed one of its better shooting nights hitting 45 per cent of the time on 23 of 51 but the difference actually came at the foul line.

Springfield held a 26-23 edge in field goals but the Beavers made the most of the charity line hitting 16 of 24 while the home team only made five of 12. Springfield shot 38 per cent on 26 of 67.

Springfield won the reserve contest, 35-32, with Mike Piatt scoring 11 points in a losing effort.

Dayton, Temple, Iowa Taste First Loss

Only 3 Teams Remain Undefeated

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The old year has just about been wiped out and so has the list of major college basketball teams.

The unblemished list was cut in half Thursday night with Dayton, Temple and fourth-ranked Iowa the latest casualties.

Only three teams, Texas Western, Bradley and Kentucky, still have perfect records as the colleges turn into the new year and begin concentrating on conference play.

Dayton was the stubbornest of the trio that went down, losing 77-75 to Maryland in the finals of the Sugar Bowl Tournament at New Orleans, La., after winning nine straight.

Henry Finkel, Dayton's 6-foot-11 center, poured in a record 44 points for the Flyers before fouling out with six seconds to play. Neil Brayton led Maryland with 19 as four Terps reached double figures.

Eighth - ranked St. Joseph's burst the Temple bubble with a 97-65 rout that wrapped up the Quaker City Tournament crown at Philadelphia.

The Hawks, who had dropped two games on the road last week, turned on a devastating fast break that opened a 20-point halftime bulge. Matt Guokas led St. Joe's with 25 as Temple's 10-game string ended.

Texas Western stretched its string to 10 games while ending Iowa's at eight. The unranked Miners ran up a 40-19 halftime lead after blanking the Hawkeyes from the field for the first 10½ minutes. The 86-68 victory, paced by Nevil Shed's 17 points, clinched the Sun Carnival Tournament for host Texas Western.

In New York, Providence's Jimmy Walker scored a record 56 points as the 10th-ranked Friars downed Boston College 91-86 for the Holiday Festival title.

Oregon State won the Far West Classic for the 10th straight year at Portland, beating Stanford 62-46 in the final after Michigan All-America Cazzie Russell had set a three-game record with 91 points. Russell threw a scare into the seventh - ranked Wolverines when he fell heavily as Michigan gained fourth place with a 93-79 victory over Washington State.

Host Oklahoma City turned on a stall and captured the All College Tournament, beating Virginia Tech 99-90. Defending national champion UCLA took the Los Angeles Classic 94-76 over crosstown rival Southern California.

In other tournaments, Clemson took the Poinsettia Classic at Greenville, S.C., downing Manhattan 77-67, Penn State's zone defense beat host Florida 54-52 in the Gator Bowl tourney and Kansas won the Big Eight Tournament 71-61 over Nebraska at Kansas City, Mo.

The only other ranked teams that saw action were No. 2 Vanderbilt and No. 9 Minnesota, and both bounced back from upset losses with victories.

The Commodores took third place in the Los Angeles Classic with a 94-72 victory over Purdue behind Keith Thomas' 30 points. Minnesota beat LaSalle 92-87 for third place in the Quaker City tourney.

Browns Out To Win 2 Back-To-Back Titles

CLEVELAND (AP)—The defending champion Cleveland Browns will be trying to become the first team in National Football League history to win consecutive championships twice when they meet hte Green Bay Packers in the title game Sunday at Green Bay.

Paul Brown's teams with Otto Graham at quarterback won back-to-back titles in 1954 and 1955. Only five other teams have turned the trick since the title game playoff was inaugurated in 1933. Green Bay was the most recent, winning in 1961 and 1962.

Other teams to do the job were the Chicago Bears in 1940 and 1941; the Philadelphia Eagles, 1948 and 1949; the Detroit Lions, 1952 and 1953; and the Baltimore Colts, 1958 and 1959.

Cleveland center John Morrow brought proof from Thursday's practice session that the Browns' defensive team is working hard in preparation for Sunday's game.

Morrow was hit when he attempted to block as the club concentrated on defense and he came out of the encounter with bruised ribs. Dr. Vic Ippolito, the team's physician, said x-rays showed there was no injury and that Morrow shouldn't be hampered in the championship game.

Quarterback Frank Ryan returned to the practice field and was feeling well enough to kid about the abdominal pains that kept him out of action Wednesday.

"I started to feel much better when I read how well Nino (quarterback Jim Ninowski) was throwing," Ryan quipped

The buffet table, covered with a purple cloth, featured silver candelabra with purple tapers and a floral centerpiece of purple flowers touched with gold. The mantle was decorated with purple maline and a plaque of praying hands, flanked by purple tapers in milk-glass holders. Favors, placed on the individual tables, were nut cups decorated with the praying hands symbols.

How To Take Joy Out Of Eating

With the New Year dawning, it is time to get a fresh perspective on the whole picture of weight control. To stay with a slimming pattern happily, it is important to have a clear idea of the factors that influence actions. Adieter writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"I've started so many diets, trying to lose 50 excess ugly pounds. But all I lose is hope. When I think of not being able to eat the foods I love, I get depressed and feel so sorry for myself that I eat like mad! Is there any help for me?"

—:—

SINCE reducing is 90 per cent attitude, a new point of view should work wonders. It's a mistake to exert will power trying not to eat. You already feel seriously deprived, so obviously this is not the solution. Your will power should be directed toward building confidence and a purposeful life, rather than merely toward resisting fattening foods.

On the surface, it would appear that the feeling of deprivation is solely for fattening foods. Understand however, that overindulgence in rich food is often an attempt to make up for something missing in your life.

Recognize that a feeling of deprivation is a subtle form of self - pity. In this frame of mind you cannot see anything but the gloomy side. You look upon the slimming pattern as punishment . . . as something being taken away from you. Actually the protective pattern of eating is the certain way out of your weight worries.

THE REWARDS of honest fact - facing can be tremendous. With enlightenment you can think in terms of what you want . . . not in terms of deprivation. Think in terms of exciting new goals . . . not just to weigh less, but to make a rich, full, wonderful life. Joy in living makes for success in slimming.

You tend to equate excess food with the good life. A life that centers around food can be a joyless affair. Turn your energies toward something positive, and creative. This is a New Year coming up, so why not decide to make this the best year of your life? Get enthusiastic about what you can do for yourself. Enthusiasm is a marvelous hill climber.

The happiest moment of your life is when you decide that you have within you the God - given power to do what you honestly want to do. This inner conviction gives you resolute purpose. You can make it a Happy New Year!

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD DOAN

Pint-Sized James Bond

Television, which has failed so far to get a piece of the James Bond action, is being offered a pint-sized variation, but so far the programmers of living room entertainment aren't springing for it.

Richard Doan

The producers of "Thunderball" and its phenomenally successful predecessors have approached two of the three national TV networks in recent days with an idea for a weekly series dramatizing the adventures of a 10-year-old boy as agent 003½.

He would be the nephew of James Bond, the Ian Fleming-created spy character portrayed in movies by Sean Connery. Bond, as everybody knows, is Agent 007.

Several network executives questioned about the proposed series were chary, saying privately they were extremely dubious about the potentialities of such a show because the producers, Albert R. Broccoli and Harry Saltzman, proposed to take a serious, play-it-straight approach to the junior agent's spying.

-:-

IT STRUCK these networkers that taking a 10-year-old seriously as a secret agent would be pretty hard to swallow.

Besides, one official said, the deal carried "a record high price tag." He did not disclose how much.

At the same time, the TV people hastened to insist they had not closed the door on the idea entirely. They were no doubt mindful that fantastic ideas have been known to succeed and that TV once apparently had a crack at James Bond and passed him up.

According to a trade paper story, an independent producer named Anne Marlowe about three years ago had an option from the late Ian Felming to produce a TV series. She took it to NBC and the network was not interested. Then the option was revoked because James Bond movies were in production and it was felt a TV series would hurt the boxoffice for the pictures.

-:-

AN NBC SPOKESMAN said no program officials at the network recall being offered the reported Bond series.

Saltzman, who is in New York seeking a network deal for the junior version, scotched the idea that it would depict "spying activities."

"It would be a family entertainment called 'The Adventures of James Bond Jr., Agent 003½,'" he explained. "I created it myself. It would be about a boy who is adventure-prone, but he would not be a spy. It's not a children's show; it would be played from the adult point of view."

He said it would be a half-hour a week, in color, filmed in England.

Saltzman reported he believed NBC was going to buy the series.

-:-

THE FILM PRODUCER said the character of James Bond would ultimately be offered to TV, but he was not prepared to predict when.

Up to now, the TV networks have had to content themselves with efforts to capitalize on the James Bond rage with series of the genre like NBC's "The Man From UNCLE."

"UNCLE," in fact, has done relatively well. It could spawn a spinoff series next fall called "The Girl from UNCLE." A trial episode with Mary Ann Mobley in the title role will be seen on "The Man From . . ." later this season.

David McCallum, co-star of "The Man from . . .," will go to Europe in March when production of the TV series is finished for this season to make a movie, "Three Bites of the Apple," in which he'll portray a travel tour guide who strikes it rich at the Riviera gaming tables.

Real Drinker

Noticed Even Before They Drink

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — You can tell some of the real drinkers, even before they have had a drink, according to a student of alcohol and its effects on drinkers.

"On the way to the party the voice gets louder, mildly funny remarks are found to be hilarious, even drinking patterns are more carefree than usual before a drink is consumed," says Robert W. Jones, associate director of the Rutgers University Center of Alcohol Studies.

"Most people don't really want to get drunk on New Year's Eve — and they don't," Jones says, even by accident.

Both Jones and his associate, Dr. Leon Greenberg, discount word - of - mouth measures designed to prevent intoxication.

Steak is as good as a glass of milk to "coat" the tummy in advance, because anything with a high protein content serves the same purpose. They advise eating a good meal before drinking much liquor.

Both say coffee does not sober you up. "The only good it does is that you are not drinking alcohol while you drink the coffee," Jones says.

The coffee may wake you up but it won't sober you up, Greenberg says.

The best bet is to space your drinks, one an hour would be ideal, they advise. "If you think you've had enough, wander around with a glass of ginger ale instead of Scotch," Jones suggests.

What to do about a hangover? Nothing, according to Greenberg, who has been studying the effects of alcohol for 32 years and enjoys an occasional social drink.

But Greenberg says studies have shown that a partygoer who nibbles the night through on snacks and delicacies, smokes too much, and "runs around like a loon" will wake up the next morning with a hangover even if he didn't have any alcohol.

To those that did imbibe, a couple of drinks the next morning may bring momentary relief, "but it isn't exactly the thing to do — it just postpones the evil moment," Greenberg says. He adds:

A cold glass of water the first thing on awakening won't make you drunk again, as some say. It merely wakes you up enough to realize you are still drunk.

So suffer, if you've had too much. Only time will help, although you can distract yourself by taking pills, he concludes.

Pint-Sized James Bond

Television, which has failed so far to get a piece of the James Bond action, is being offered a pint-sized variation, but so far the programmers of living room entertainment aren't springing for it.

Richard Doan

The producers of "Thunderball" and its phenomenally successful predecessors have approached two of the three national TV networks in recent days with an idea for a weekly series dramatizing the adventures of a 10-year-old boy as Agent 003½.

He would be the nephew of James Bond, the Ian Fleming-created spy character portrayed in movies by Sean Connery. Bond, as everybody knows, is Agent 007.

Several network executives questioned about the proposed series were chary, saying privately they were extremely dubious about the potentialities of such a show because the producers, Albert R. NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — You can tell some of the real drinkers, even before they have had a drink, according to a student of alcohol and its effects on drinkers.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: When polishing my fingernails, I occasionally smeared a nail or two, and found it difficult to remove the polish on the smeared nail without also removing the polish on another.

So, I cut off the good fingers on my old rubber gloves before throwing them away.

Now, I just roll these rubber fingers on the well-polished nails (after the polish is dry), when I want to remove polish from the one smeared nail.

I put these rubber fingertips in a small plastic bag and keep them with my nail polish remover, etc.

BETTY G. COGSWELL.

-:-

Betty, this is a neat solution to a messy situation! You are a livin' doll for sharing the idea with us.

HELOISE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: I enjoy your column, but one thing keeps coming to mind—how do we use the time we save by using your hints?

MRS. J.M.

DEAR HELOISE: I save all paper and foil oleo wrappers and use a paper one to grease the pan when frying a low-calorie egg, or high protein meat, etc., since there is enough oleo left on a wrapper for this. Also I use them to grease cake pans—prevents getting greasy fingers.

I use the foil wrappers to wrap potatoes for baking, to line pans when baking fish, etc., and to make domes to put over small roasts. This saves browning the meat in grease first, since the oleo melts and runs over the meat and flavors it.

DOT QUINTAS.

DEAR HELOISE: The doorstop on our bathroom door kept falling out.

To keep the wall from getting chipped, we slipped a stretchable cotton coaster over the doorknob.

The coaster hugs the doorknob just as it does a glass.

DIANE.

-:-

DEAR FOLKS: Many of the modern fabrics (and blends of fabrics) on the market today recommend special washing, cleaning, drying and ironing procedures.

When shopping for clothing, curtains and drapes, it's wise to check fiber content to find out whether the fabric is washable, must be dry cleaned, etc.

After purchase, be sure to keep the instructions handy for easy reference when an article is in need of cleaning or washing. The day will come when you'll need these instructions.

Though we think we can always remember—sometimes we don't.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Put up a towel rack above your sink, and clip a few clothespins on it; then, when washing dishes, and you come to those plastic bags, graters and strainers, pin them up to drip dry.

I just hate to dry them, and as I wash dishes, I come upon lots of other things to hang up.

READER

DEAR HELOISE: I planted a few pieces of white potato (eyes up), about an inch each of the top of a beet and carrot (retaining leaves), trimmed the foliage to about two inches, and planted these in soil.

I put a layer of white sand on top of the soil, and inserted a small figure for decorations.

The vegetables soon sprouted, and in a short time I had a very pretty garden.

ELLA F.

DEAR HELOISE: To eliminate rug and carpet shock, an anti-static chemical can be sprayed on a rug or carpet. This chemical is safe, non-toxic, nonflammable and nonirritating. It will not damage or discolor carpets or backing.

This is a service that any reputable, professional rug cleaner can offer to your readers.

More Protection For Consumer

Pennsylvania's Weights, Measures Law Due Jan. 1

HARRISBURG (AP) — Starting Saturday, Pennsylvania housewives no longer will have to contend with such traditional shopping gimmicks as the "jumbo" quart, the "full" pound or the "giant, economy" pack.

The arrival of 1966 also means service station operators in Pennsylvania must post gasoline prices so the percentage figure can be seen as well as the first part of the price.

It's part of a far - reaching weights and measures law passed by the 1965 legislature and signed by Gov. Scranton. It becomes effective New Year's Day.

Hailed as a milestone in the effort to provide more protection for consumers, the new law is designed to increase the powers of the state Department of Internal Affairs in promoting equity between buyer and seller by eliminating misleading, exaggerated and deceptive advertising and packaging.

Such practices as using giant-sized boxes which are too large in relation to their contents are the targets of the new act.

Agents of the Department of Internal Affairs will have the power to make periodic samplings and investigations of products to determine if they comply with the new standards.

If they don't, the agent will then have the authority to order such products off the market and return them to the packer.

Specifically banned will be the use of catch phrases like "jumbo, full, giant, or over."

Under the act, agents will have the right to go into any store in the state and take samples off the shelf to check the contents.

Slight variances over and under the figure on the label will be permitted as long as the average of the samples tested come out to at least the weight listed.

Housewives aren't the only ones to benefit from the new act. How many times have you passed a gasoline station with a large sign saying "gasoline 29.9 cents a gallon" with the percentage figure so small you hardly notice it?

Under the new law, the percentage fraction must be at least half the size of the base price and adjacent to it on the sign.

Further control will be placed on the size of packages. For instance, butter, oleomargarine and potatoes will have to be sold only in prescribed quantities to avoid the possibility of packaging of such commodities getting out of hand.

The law requires that potatoes be sold in units of 3, 5, 10 and 15, 20, 25, 50 or 100 pounds or any unit already standardized by law, such as bushels or pecks.

The penalties for violation of the new weights and measures act range from fines of $20 to $500 and up to one year in jail, depending on the number and seriousness of the violation.

Selective Service Considers Korea War Deferment Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The man-hunting Selective Service agency says it is considering revival of the Korean wartime deferment standards for college students — which made it harder for marginal students to get draft exemptions.

Some 2.2 million students now hold deferments, and are required only to be doing satisfactory work as fulltime students at a properly accredited college or university.

"We're looking at some things that might be done to find less promising students," aSelective Service official said Thursday. "If we need more men...one good place to look is going to be the students."

The Korean War standards were dropped in 1962. Under them, class standing and performance on a Selective Service qualification test were considered before a ruling on draft eligibility was made.

A spokesman said the increasing draft board demands of the Viet Nam war—now responsible for about 40,000 draftees a month — has led Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey to summon state draft chiefs to a series of conferences.

Among other things, the spokesman said, the officials will discuss possible moves to increase the number of men available for induction.

The draft meetings will begin Jan. 9, when Southern state draft directors will gather at Ft. Stewart, Ga. On Jan. 19, state directors from the Northeast and Midwest will meet in Washington. Western draft directors will meet Feb. 7 in San Diego.

The victim was James Murray of Cleveland. The driver of the car was questioned by police.

Ohio Tomato, Juice Production Soaring

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Tomato and tomato juice production in Ohio are setting records, the State Department of Agriculture reports.

Director John Stackhouse said Thursday production of tomato juice, Ohio's official state average, has increased at a pace of 34 per cent, and that tomato production was 469,851 tons in 1965.

MOSCOW (AP)—Yuri Gagarin, the Soviet Union's first cosmonaut, says a growing number of professions will take part in future space flights.

Gagarin noted in an interview with the newspaper Red Star that pilots, engineers, a scientist and a doctor have been up already in Soviet spacecraft.

He described recent American space flights as "a major achievement," but said it would be a simplification to interpret the U.S. accomplishments as first steps on an unexplored way.

Gagarin said Soviet spaceships Vostok-3 and Vostok-4 had flown in formation.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: When polishing my fingernails, I occasionally smeared a nail or two, and found it difficult to remove the polish on the smeared nail without also removing the polish on another.

So, I cut off the good fingers on my old rubber gloves before throwing them away.

Now, I just roll these rubber fingers on the well-polished nails (after the polish is dry), when I want to remove polish from the one smeared nail.

I put these rubber fingertips in a small plastic bag and keep them with my nail polish remover, etc.

BETTY G. COGSWELL.

-:-

Betty, this is a neat solution to a messy situation! You are a livin' doll for sharing the idea with us.

HELOISE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: I enjoy your column, but one thing keeps coming to mind—how do we use the time we save by using your hints?

MRS. J.M.

DEAR HELOISE: I save all paper and foil oleo wrappers and use a paper one to grease the pan when frying a low-calorie egg, or high protein meat, etc., since there is enough oleo left on a wrapper for this. Also I use them to grease cake pans—prevents getting greasy fingers.

I use the foil wrappers to wrap potatoes for baking, to line pans when baking fish, etc., and to make domes to put over small roasts. This saves browning the meat in grease first, since the oleo melts and runs over the meat and flavors it.

DOT QUINTAS.

DEAR HELOISE: The doorstop on our bathroom door kept falling out.

To keep the wall from getting chipped, we slipped a stretchable cotton coaster over the doorknob.

The coaster hugs the doorknob just as it does a glass.

DIANE.

-:-

DEAR FOLKS: Many of the modern fabrics (and blends of fabrics) on the market today recommend special washing, cleaning, drying and ironing procedures.

When shopping for clothing, curtains and drapes, it's wise to check fiber content to find out whether the fabric is washable, must be dry cleaned, etc.

After purchase, be sure to keep the instructions handy for easy reference when an article is in need of cleaning or washing. The day will come when you'll need these instructions.

Though we think we can always remember—sometimes we don't.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Put up a towel rack above your sink, and clip a few clothespins on it; then, when washing dishes, and you come to those plastic bags, graters and strainers, pin them up to drip dry.

I just hate to dry them, and as I wash dishes, I come upon lots of other things to hang up.

DEAR HELOISE: I planted a few pieces of white potato (eyes up), about an inch each of the top of a beet and carrot (retaining leaves), trimmed the foliage to about two inches, and planted these in soil.

I put a layer of white sand on top of the soil, and inserted a small figure for decorations.

The vegetables soon sprouted, and in a short time I had a very pretty garden.

ELLA F.

DEAR HELOISE: To eliminate rug and carpet shock, an anti-static chemical can be sprayed on a rug or carpet. This chemical is safe, non-toxic, nonflammable and nonirritating. It will not damage or discolor carpets or backing.

This is a service that any reputable, professional rug cleaner can offer to your readers.

More Protection For Consumer

Pennsylvania's Weights, Measures Law Due Jan. 1

HARRISBURG (AP) — Starting Saturday, Pennsylvania housewives no longer will have to contend with such traditional shopping gimmicks as the "jumbo" quart, the "full" pound or the "giant, economy" pack.

The arrival of 1966 also means service station operators in Pennsylvania must post gasoline prices so the percentage figure can be seen as well as the first part of the price.

It's part of a far - reaching weights and measures law passed by the 1965 legislature and signed by Gov. Scranton. It becomes effective New Year's Day.

Hailed as a milestone in the effort to provide more protection for consumers, the new law is designed to increase the powers of the state Department of Internal Affairs in promoting equity between buyer and seller by eliminating misleading, exaggerated and deceptive advertising and packaging.

Such practices as using giant-sized boxes which are too large in relation to their contents are the targets of the new act.

Agents of the Department of Internal Affairs will have the power to make periodic samplings and investigations of products to determine if they comply with the new standards.

If they don't, the agent will then have the authority to order such products off the market and return them to the packer.

Specifically banned will be the use of catch phrases like "jumbo, full, giant, or over."

Under the act, agents will have the right to go into any store in the state and take samples off the shelf to check the contents.

Slight variances over and under the figure on the label will be permitted as long as the average of the samples tested come out to at least the weight listed.

Housewives aren't the only ones to benefit from the new act. How many times have you passed a gasoline station with a large sign saying "gasoline 29.9 cents a gallon" with the percentage figure so small you hardly notice it?

Under the new law, the percentage fraction must be at least half the size of the base price and adjacent to it on the sign.

Further control will be placed on the size of packages. For instance, butter, oleomargarine and potatoes will have to be sold only in prescribed quantities to avoid the possibility of packaging of such commodities getting out of hand.

The law requires that potatoes be sold in units of 3, 5, 10 and 15, 20, 25, 50 or 100 pounds or any unit already standardized by law, such as bushels or pecks.

The penalties for violation of the new weights and measures act range from fines of $20 to $500 and up to one year in jail, depending on the number and seriousness of the violation.

Selective Service Considers Korea War Deferment Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The man-hunting Selective Service agency says it is considering revival of the Korean wartime deferment standards for college students — which made it harder for marginal students to get draft exemptions.

Some 2.2 million students now hold deferments, and are required only to be doing satisfactory work as fulltime students at a properly accredited college or university.

"We're looking at some things that might be done to find less promising students," aSelective Service official said Thursday. "If we need more men...one good place to look is going to be the students."

The Korean War standards were dropped in 1962. Under them, class standing and performance on a Selective Service qualification test were considered before a ruling on draft eligibility was made.

A spokesman said the increasing draft board demands of the Viet Nam war—now responsible for about 40,000 draftees a month — has led Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey to summon state draft chiefs to a series of conferences.

Among other things, the spokesman said, the officials will discuss possible moves to increase the number of men available for induction.

The draft meetings will begin Jan. 9, when Southern state draft directors will gather at Ft. Stewart, Ga. On Jan. 19, state directors from the Northeast and Midwest will meet in Washington. Western draft directors will meet Feb. 7 in San Diego.

Car Kills Man, 32: Police Quiz Driver

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 32-year-old man was killed early today when struck by a car as he was walking across the Harvard-Denison Bridge.

The victim was James Murray of Cleveland. The driver of the car was questioned by police.

Ohio Tomato, Juice Production Soaring

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Tomato and tomato juice production in Ohio are setting records, the State Department of Agriculture reports.

Director John Stackhouse said Thursday production of tomato juice, Ohio's official state average, has increased at a pace of 34 per cent, and that tomato production was 469,851 tons in 1965.

MOSCOW (AP)—Yuri Gagarin, the Soviet Union's first cosmonaut, says a growing number of professions will take part in future space flights.

Gagarin noted in an interview with the newspaper Red Star that pilots, engineers, a scientist and a doctor have been up already in Soviet spacecraft.

He described recent American space flights as "a major achievement," but said it would be a simplification to interpret the U.S. accomplishments as first steps on an unexplored way.

Gagarin said Soviet spaceships Vostok-3 and Vostok-4 had flown in formation.

The action was based on charges of keeping slot machines on the premises and for selling whisky.

The Latern Inn was opened this year by a corporation comprised of Hancock County men. The beer license was issued to "Lantern Inn, Inc." and bore no individual names.

41-A FARM SUPPLIES

INSTANT HEAT ANYWHERE!

Only a Knipco heater brings you circulating warm air instantly, wherever you need it. Plug it in anywhere—indoors or out. Use the really low priced Knipco in your machine shed, hog house, milk house, or chicken house. Thaw pipes, pumps, equipment. Pre-heat engines. Many other applications.

Burns kerosene or No. 1 fuel oil needs no vent. Anyone can run it. Plug in for heat—pull plug to stop! Thermostat available.

Knipco Model F155 and the FV200 vented heater work just as easy but put out more heat. Stop in soon for a demonstration.

Junior Editors Quiz on SEASONS

QUESTION: Why does the earth have different seasons?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: There are many mysteries about the creation of our planet Earth. One such question, as yet unresolved by the experts, is why the earth rotates around the sun always tilted at an angle of 23-½ degrees to the plane of its orbit. Even if we don't know what originally caused this, we do know that it is this tilt which gives us the different seasons of the year. Look at the top picture and find, roughly, the place where you live. Remember that the earth makes one full orbit each year around the sun. In the top picture, it's summer; see how the arrows representing the sun's rays are shining down almost directly on North America. That's why the summer is warm. But in winter (lower picture) North America is slanting away from the sun's rays, which must pass sideways through a large part of the earth's atmosphere. Thus, much of the heat is absorbed. Consequently, the winter is much colder. It will help to study the lower left diagram, which shows the earth circling around the sun, yet preserving the same tilted axis all the time.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Imagine yourself taking a trip to Buenos Aires, far down the eastern coast of South America. Would the climate there, in summer and winter, be the same as that back home? Study the slant of the sun's rays hitting Buenos Aires and reason out the answer.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Parents Can Stop Child's Shoplifting

You parents who read this column want your children to be good citizens. You want them to practice in due regard for the rights and possessions of other people. The mere thought of them ever taking things from stores or becoming adult shoplifters would horrify you.

Dr. Garry Myers

Yet you know that some children of parents who are as highly cultured and educated as yourself, who live in as comfortable homes as you do, steal things from stores.

These stores may be in an area of high economic level, and the children who take things from them may live nearby—in suburbs or suburbia.

The practice by children of taking things from stores may begin at an early age. Two or more youngsters enter a store which has many small articles for sale, just to look at things there.

—:—

ON THE first visit there they may have no intention to steal anything. But as they look at many articles which they handle, one of these youngsters may decide to slip some small thing he likes into his pocket.

Soon the other child or children may do likewise.

The clerk apprehending the offender may chase the youngsters out of the store, scolding them as he does. If he knows the name of the young "thief" he may call up his parents. He may even get the names of the parents of the other child or children in the group. If the clerk calls up the father or mother he may be told "Our child never would do such a thing," or "Were you never a kid yourself?"

Many a merchant will tell you that he hesitates to call up a parent he knows to be a good customer.

Some parents learning that their child took some article in his possession from a store will command him to take this article back to the store and pay for it, and then forget all about the matter. The youngster may obey this command. He also may not.

—:—

SUPPOSE it were your child. If you really cared about his learning to be honest you would explain to the child how serious the matter is. Then you would go with him and have him return the article or see you pay an official of the store for it.

In the presence of this storeman you would command your child never to come in to this or any other store again unless accompanied by an older responsible person. You would also ask the storeman to inform you in case your child came into the store again not under these conditions.

Suppose your child has not had, to your knowledge, any articles you suspected to be stolen property. Suppose the storeman, seeing your child with another child in his store, says he thinks your child also took some things.

If you child insists he himself took nothing, accept his word. But explain to him that, as long as the storeman "thinks you did" he must be assured that you won't come to his store again just with another child.

KNOWING the kind of stores your child has already visited with another child, and the time of day this is most likely to happen, you might be wise to drop around at these stores, in case you have any reason to believe your child may be tempted to visit in them only with another child.

We can begin very early to guide the young child to escape temptations to be a shoplifter. We can guide him well in the family to respect the rights and possessions of other persons there.

When, as a tot, he goes with us into any store, we can train him not to touch or handle any article there not purchased or about to be purchased.

Living Costs Went Up .2% In November

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs, rising at the fastest rate in seven years, went up another two-tenths of one per cent last month, the Labor Department said.

Prices were higher for all major items — including housing, clothing, transportation and medical care — except food, which held steady.

The increase brought the government's consumer price index to 110.6. The figure means it cost $11.06 in November to purchase items worth $10 in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

The rise in typical family living costs brought the value of a 1957-59 dollar down to 90.4 cents.

Despite the record high level of the index, Deputy Commissioner Robert J. Myers of the Bureau of Labor Statistics said there was reason to hope that future price rises could be held to moderate levels.

He said the November increase bucked a seasonal trend in which prices usually hold steady and that a further increase could be expected when December figures are all in.

"This is a real increase," Myers said of the November rise.

Average after-tax earnings of factory workers were at an all-time high of $98.26 a week for workers with three dependents and $90.50 for single workers.

Consumer prices were up 1.7 per cent above November a year ago, compared with an annual rate of increase of 1.2 per cent over the previous five years.

The 1.7 per cent figure was the highest annual rate of increase since 1958, when prices went up 2.8 per cent over the year.

Myers said he did not believe the war in Viet Nam was exerting a very important influence on consumer prices.

He added, "I think it is very important to keep watching prices because of the psychological situation." He said he meant it was unwise to become accustomed to increases.

Oil Firms' Merger Blocked

Judge Will Set Hearing In Pennzoil-Kendall Case

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Federal Judge Louis Rosenberg says he will schedule a hearing at "the soonest possible time" on a government petition for a permanent injunction against merger of the Pennzoil and Kendall Refining Companies.

In a 100-page opinion granting the government a preliminary injunction Thursday, Rosenberg urged both sides to prepare for a final hearing as "speedily as possible."

The government sought the preliminary injunction on the contention that a merger would lessen competition and tend to create a monopoly.

At a six-day hearing before Rosenberg last September, Pennzoil and Kendall said a merger would promote competition, not lessen it, and was necessary for the economic health of both companies.

Neither company would comment on the decision, saying they wanted to study it.

However, Judge Rosenberg noted that Kendall and Pennzoil had argued at the hearing that "issuance of a preliminary injunction would inflict irreparable injury on the defendants and amount to a final judgment for the government."

In upholding the government position, Rosenberg said there are only 10 refineries of Pennsylvania crude oil and that in 1964 Pennzoil, Quaker State and Kendall accounted for more than 80 per cent of the oil processed.

"Should the proposed merger be consumated," the judge said, "it must inevitable follow that

1. Competition between Pennzoil and Kendall in the purchase of Penn grade crude will be eliminated; 2. Kendall will be eliminated as a substantial competitive factor in the purchase of Penn grade crude from independent producers;

"And 3, concentration in the production and purchase of Penn grade crude will be substantially increased."

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Parents Can Stop Child's Shoplifting

You parents who read this column want your children to be good citizens. You want them to practice in due regard for the rights and possessions of other people. The mere thought of them ever taking things from stores or becoming adult shoplifters would horrify you.

Dr. Garry Myers

Yet you know that some children of parents who are as highly cultured and educated as yourself, who live in as comfortable homes as you do, steal things from stores.

These stores may be in an area of high economic level, and the children who take things from them may live nearby—in suburbs or suburbia.

The practice by children of taking things from stores may begin at an early age. Two or more youngsters enter a store which has many small articles for sale, just to look at things there.

—:—

ON THE first visit there they may have no intention to steal anything. But as they look at many articles which they handle, one of these youngsters may decide to slip some small thing he likes into his pocket.

Soon the other child or children may do likewise.

The clerk apprehending the offender may chase the youngsters out of the store, scolding them as he does. If he knows the name of the young "thief" he may call up his parents. He may even get the names of the parents of the other child or children in the group. If the clerk calls up the father or mother he may be told "Our child never would do such a thing," or "Were you never a kid yourself?"

Many a merchant will tell you that he hesitates to call up a parent he knows to be a good customer.

Some parents learning that their child took some article in his possession from a store will command him to take this article back to the store and pay for it, and then forget all about the matter. The youngster may obey this command. He also may not.

—:—

SUPPOSE it were your child. If you really cared about his learning to be honest you would explain to the child how serious the matter is. Then you would go with him and have him return the article or see you pay an official of the store for it.

In the presence of this storeman you would command your child never to come in to this or any other store again unless accompanied by an older responsible person. You would also ask the storeman to inform you in case your child came into the store again not under these conditions.
